Driving to be the best CAF truckers put trade to the test

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

The desk jobs are done, and the Atlantic region's best Canadian Armed Forces truckers are on the road.

CFB Greenwood is hosting the 2013 Atlantic region driving challenge this week, with teams from Gagetown, Halifax and Greenwood entered.

May 26, the teams were seated for paper tests related to vehicle readiness, mapping and other trucking-related challenges; May 27 at 8 a.m., the competition's official opening will be held on the paved space behind Hangar 3 and the Cadet camp barracks. From there, competition includes driving a bus, tractor trailer, straight truck and heavy logistics wheeled vehicles through a range of obstacles; and a distance driving challenge.

"You need all the basic skills," says Warrant Officer Ben Dominie, one of the 14 Wing hosts setting up the course and organizing the event.

"The challenge is a trucker thing, and they could be in any trade. We see infantry, truckers, Construction Engineering crew members, Reserve.... We're testing skills from our daily jobs and deployment."

The courses' obstacles took about two weeks to plot out, including simulated loading ramps, tight lanes and alleyways, curbs and designated stops. The longer route discipline event sends drivers off base with a map and compass and several check-in points with "basic soldier skill" challenges to be completed.

"This is a good time," Dominie says. "It builds morale, and it's a chance for the corporals and privates and civilians to show off their practice and effort and do well."

Spectators are welcome through the days' driving competitions. The challenge wraps up May 28, with awards and a dinner at the Annapolis Mess. The top three drivers in each category have the opportunity to compete at the CAF nationals later this summer.

14 Wing Greenwood crews set the course for the Atlantic region driving challenge, underway this week.

L'équipe de Nimègue, sac militaire au dos, recueille des dons Qu'est-ce que la marche de Nimègue?

Pour une 97^e année, la région de Nimègue, aux Pays-Bas, sera l'hôte de la marche exténuante de 163 km, qui s'étalera sur quatre jours. Cela représente, pour les participants équipés d'un sac à dos militaire, l'équivalent d'un marathon par jour, pendant quatre jours. Plus de 50 000 personnes inscrites à la marche, qui aura lieu du 16 au 19 juillet. Au total, 19 militaires de la 14^e Escadre s'entraînent activement pour cette occasion de représenter le Canada.

Pourquoi l'équipe qui s'entraîne en vue de la marche de Nimègue fait-elle une collecte de fonds?

Chaque année, l'équipe qui prend part à la marche de Nimègue appuie financièrement deux bonnes causes : Soldat en Mouvement, qui vient en aide aux soldats blessés et Fonds Pour les Familles des Militaires, qui sert à aider les familles de militaires qui font face à des dépenses imprévues et très souvent immédiates découlant des conditions de service.

Comment aider?

Le lundi 27 mai, entre 11 h et 14 h, équipés de notre sac à dos militaire, nous recueillerons des fonds en marchant le long des routes principales de Greenwood et de Kingston. Vous n'avez qu'à vous arrêter et à faire votre don à l'un de nos membres qui vous tendra un récipient.

Merci de votre appui.

Tusker tidbits

Chris Charland, 14 Wing H.R.A.

This photo shows a Noorduyn Norseman Mk. IV, s/n 366 and coded AP*V, from No. 413 "Tusker" (ST) Squadron. This survey and transport squadron was part of Air Transport Command's No. 22 (Photographic) Wing and based at R.C.A.F. Station Rockcliffe, Ontario. Norsemen were used to provide logistical support and light transport for survey teams in Canada's far north from April, 1947 to October, 1950. R.C.A.F. Norseman 366 was a lend-lease aircraft, originally U.S.A.A.F. s/n 43-5284 and designated as a UC-64. This particular Norseman was taken on strength with the R.C.A.F. December 6, 1943, and served with Western Air Command's Northwest Staging Route Communications Flight based at R.C.A.F. Station Edmonton, Alberta. It sustained Category 'C' damage at Edmonton June 9, 1944 while with No. 6 Communications Flight. It later served with the station flight at R.C.A.F. Station Edmonton. Norseman 366 was transferred to Transport Command's No. 413 "Tusker" (ST) Squadron April 13, 1948 and worked with No. 10 Geodetic Survey Detachment in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory. Norseman 366 was then transferred to No. 408 "Goose" (P) Squadron at R.C.A.F. Station Rockcliffe, Ontario May 1, 1951. It was coded AK*T. June 9, 1953, it was transferred to No. 111 Com-

December 16, 1953, the aircraft was put into storage at R.C.A.F. Station Lincoln Park, Calgary, Alberta. It was sold to Noorduyn Aviation Limited November 25, 1955. In 1956, it was sold to Canadian Structural Steel Works and registered as CF-INL.

405 (LRP) Squadron participates in Exercise Trident Fury

Captain Mike Austin, 405 Squadron

Trident Fury is an annual combined exercise on the west coast of Canada, hosted by Maritime Forces Pacific, May 3 to 19. This exercise is part of a larger national-level exercise, JOINTX 13, May 1 through June 8.

Units participating in Trident Fury include a number of Canadian and US naval vessels, including Her Majesty's Canadian Ships (HMCS) Algonquin, Ottawa, Nanaimo, Saskatoon and Edmonton; and Her Majesty's Canadian Submarine

Victoria, United States Naval Ships (USNS) Carl Brashear and United States Ships (USS) Ford, Lake Champlain and Spruance; United States Coast Guard Cutters (USCGC) Rush and Orcas. The air component consisted of a variety of Canadian and US aircraft, including the CP140 Aurora, CC130J Hercules, CH124 Sea King, CF18 Hornet, F15 Eagle, Alpha Jets, the EA6B Prowler and the EA18G Growler. Canadian long range patrol (LRP) aircrews from 407 Squadron from 19 Wing Comox and 405 Squadron from 14 Wing Greenwood attended the exercise, gaining valuable experience conducting coordinated naval and overland operations. The exercise commenced in the Pacific Ocean off the coast of B.C., and progressed into coastal areas, culminating with an amphibious landing and conversion to a land-based operation.

With so many participants, Trident Fury offers an excellent opportunity for CP140 Aurora crews to hone skills across the broad spectrum of roles required when working in support of naval forces. 405 Squadron deployed Crew 2 "The Ardees" in support of Exercise Trident Fury. Highlighting the flexibility of the CP140, the crew responded to the dynamic needs of the combined naval force, transitioning between roles to provide underwater and overwater surveillance. The initial flight May 6 was scheduled to be one-on-one training with HMCS Victoria, but was changed to a surface vessel reporting mission. Friendly force ships used the Aurora to enhance their situational awareness, including locating and identifying other vessels over the horizon. May 8, the crew directly supported the friendly force in locating and tracking HMCS Victoria, with assistance from a CH124 Sea King. Searching for, localizing and tracking a submerged submarine is the most challenging mission an Aurora crew may be given.

14 Wing Greenwood's Captain Joseph Antle, a navigator/communicator (NAVCOM) from 405 Squadron's Crew 2, completed his A-Category Check-ride, the final test for a NAVCOM to achieve the top category in their trade in the CP-140 fleet.

During the remainder of the exercise, the crew was to provide a variety of support in overwater and overland roles, including submarine tracking in coordination with CH124 Sea Kings, anti-submarine support while the navy conducted replenishment at sea and airborne intelligence, surveillance and reconnaissance support to an amphibious landing and follow-on manoeuvres.

As JOINTX 13 transitions from the ocean phase to the land phase, a second 405 Squadron crew, Crew 5, was set to deploy to Comox for Exercise Maple Resolve, the land exercise component of JOINTX 13 in Wainwright, AB.

Greenwood Military Aviation Museum volunteer Ernie Killen with his family's old 1942 model Marconi Canada Radio, now at home in the museum's new annex.

Sounds of the times

Wartime era right at home on museum's new, old Marconi radio

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

The sounds of the times now fill the air of “hangar” display space at the Greenwood Military Aviation Museum

The music of Vera Lynn, Benny Goodman and Glenn Miller are interspersed with the laughs of Abbott and Costello, the reportage of Edward R. Murrow, significant speeches of Winston Churchill, the sounds of the Battle of Dunkirk and more – all seemingly broadcast from a Marconi Canada floor model, wood cabinet radio.

“I was looking for a radio,” Major Bob Johnson, the 14 Wing Greenwood wing heritage officer, says. “I found one in an antiques shop and was talking about it with the volunteers who come in to the museum, and one of them overheard us.”

It turns out Ernie Killen had exactly what Johnson was envisioning in his garage, “a 1942 model, all wrapped and protected, with the record player on top and even the paperwork for the licenses for the first few years.

“You had to have a license to be able to listen,” Johnson says. “There was no TV, no Tweeting – this was it, and families would sit around and listen.”

Johnson found digital recordings of 1940s’ music, speeches and popular entertainment of the day and downloaded it onto an MP3 player. He’s added a light to glow behind the radio’s channel dial. The radio stands in the museum’s new annex, which now houses the restored Anson and will eventually be home to the Bolingbroke. Johnson is hoping to recreate a 1940s mobile recruitment centre, a kind of lounge – the artwork is already up, enticing young men to join up, and young women to do so as well. The sound of the radio in the space now makes a huge difference to the early-stages exhibit.

Highway honours Nova Scotia heroes

The province is paying tribute to the men and women who risk their lives every day to keep Nova Scotians healthy and safe by renaming a section of Highway 111 the Highway of Heroes, Premier Darrell Dexter announced May 22. “There are so many quiet heroes among us whose brave and selfless actions often go unnoticed,” said

Dexter. “Dedicating this section of highway in their honour is one small way that Nova Scotians can say thank you for the special work that these people do every day. It underscores the province’s sincere appreciation for our military and first responders.” The section of highway in Dartmouth, between the MacKay bridge and Pleasant Street, celebrates the courageous work of all Nova Scotia veterans, firefighters, police and paramedics, as well as everyday heroes like Harry Fraser and Nicholas Kaiser, honoured with the 2012 Medal of Bravery. “The Canadian Army Veterans’ Motorcycle Unit has embarked on a project to have a section of highway in every province in Canada named the Highway of Heroes to honour those who gave all and those who give every day to protect and serve us,” said Roger Mailman, Battle of Atlantic Sergeant-At-Arms. “The Atlantic unit of Halifax was asked to take on this task for Nova Scotia. We are very appreciative of the government support on this.”

Nimegen team rucksack drive fundraiser

What is the Nijmegen march?

This is the 97th year Nijmegen, Holland is hosting a gruelling 163-kilometre, four-day march - that’s a marathon each day for four days, with a rucksack. Over 50,000 individuals have registered for the march July 16 to 19. There are 19 members from 14 Wing Greenwood actively training for this opportunity to represent Canada.

Why is the Nijmegen training team raising funds?

Each year, the Nijmegen team supports two very worthy causes: Soldier On supports injured soldiers and the Military Families Fund provides emergency financial assistance to military families faced with unforeseen and often immediate needs that have resulted due to conditions of service.

How can you help?

Monday, May 27, between 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., we are having a rucksack drive fundraiser as we march along the main routes of Greenwood and Kingston. Simply stop and donate to one of our members holding an offering bucket. Thanks for your support.

Minister of National Defence Peter MacKay used sterile scissors to cut the ribbon (hanging from IV poles) and officially open the William Hall VC Building, home of 26 Health Services Centre and 1 Dental Unit Detachment at 14 Wing Greenwood.

Past, future combine

Military hero William Hall VC remembered as ceremony designates officially-opened health centre

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

With the snip of a pair of sterile hospital scissors, dignitaries officially opened the new William Hall VC Building at 14 Wing Greenwood May 14.

The building is home to the base's 26 Canadian Forces Health Services and 1 Dental Unit Detachment, along with mental health services – all combined from multiple buildings of the past into a health centre for the future.

"We're celebrating a milestone in this move from the 'old girl' across the way – she did yeoman's work," said Captain (Navy) J.R. Young, Commander 4 Health Services Group. "This is a cathedral of light, a testament to the success of 1 Dental and 26 Canadian Forces Health Services who bring such care to 14 Wing Greenwood. Congratulations in establishing this facility, and the family that resides within."

Majors Christina Holmes and Christine Drab, Commander 1 Dental Unit Detachment and Commander 26/ 27 CF Health Services, respectively, stood together at the podium as the opening event got underway, "proud to be under the shadow of our old facility," Drab said, pointing to a scuffed and weathered sign of a red cross hanging in the new health centre's lobby.

"This red cross hung from 1942 to 2012 at the old centre, and it serves as a memento in honour of all those who served."

"And it will hang here as we serve people well into the future," said Holmes.

The link between past, present and future is embodied in naming the new facility after William Hall, Minister of National Defence Peter MacKay said, announcing the designation for the first time.

"In Canada, we had a military before we had a country, before Confederation," MacKay said. "Our roots of military service run deep, particularly in this part of the world."

Hall was the first Nova Scotian in Canadian and Commonwealth history – and the first black man – to be awarded a Victoria Cross for his "incredibly courageous action reinforcing the British Navy in India," MacKay said. Hall joined the Royal Navy in 1852 and served for 25 years, before returning home to the family farm in Hantsport, where he died in 1904.

"This naming is an opportunity: Hall embodies qualities the men and women of 14 Wing strive to emulate today. To this day, the mention of William Hall makes Nova Scotians and Canadians very proud. We must remember those who served before us, who paved the way for us."

MacKay said "service is love in action," and the military team that supports the health of its military peers today "ensures people are able to carry on, in some cases, with very heavy and demanding work."

The health centre opened in January, almost a year before the anticipated occupancy, but it took many years of planning and preparation. The ground was broken in the fall of 2010, and many partners had a hand in thinking of health workers' specific work space needs, and then seeing those come to life through paper design work and physical construction. Those partners – including Canadian Armed Forces personnel still accessing services throughout the construction and move – were thanked for their professionalism, commitment – and patience.

Le passé et l'avenir se rejoignent

William Hall VC, héros militaire, commémoré lors de la cérémonie d'inauguration officielle du centre de santé

Sara Keddy,
rédactrice en chef

D'un coup de ciseaux d'hôpital stérilisés, les dignitaires ont officiellement inauguré le nouvel immeuble William Hall VC à la 14^e Escadre Greenwood le 14 mai.

L'immeuble abrite le 26^e Centre des services de santé et le détachement de la 1^{re} Unité dentaire des Forces canadiennes à la base, ainsi que les services de santé mentale – des entités qui se trouvaient toutes auparavant dans des bâtiments différents et qui ont été regroupées dans un centre de soins de santé de l'avenir.

« Nous célébrons l'étape importante que constitue ce déménagement de la 'vieille maison' de l'autre côté – elle a fait du bon travail », de dire le capitaine de vaisseau J.R. Young, commandant du 4^e Groupe des services de santé. « Le nouveau centre est une cathédrale de lumière, un témoignage du succès de la 1^{re}

Unité dentaire et du 26^e Centre des services de santé, qui offrent de si bons soins à la 14^e Escadre Greenwood. Félicitations à tous ceux et celles qui ont contribué à l'établissement de cette installation, et aux membres de la famille qui lui donnent vie. »

Les majors Christina Holmes et Christine Drab, commandant du détachement de la 1^{re} Unité dentaire et des 26/27^e Centres des services de santé des FC respectivement, se tenaient ensemble au podium au début des cérémonies d'ouverture, « fières d'être à l'ombre de notre ancienne installation », de dire le Major Drab, en pointant du doigt une affiche éraflée et abimée arborant une croix rouge dans l'entrée du nouveau centre de soins de santé.

« Cette croix rouge a été suspendue de 1942 à 2012 au vieux centre, et elle est un souvenir à la mémoire de tous ceux qui ont servi. »

« Et elle sera suspendue ici

pour nous accompagner pendant que nous servirons les gens bien longtemps encore », de dire le major Holmes.

Le lien entre le passé, le présent et l'avenir est mis en évidence dans le choix du nom de la nouvelle installation, l'immeuble William Hall, a expliqué le ministre de la Défense nationale Peter MacKay, lorsqu'il a annoncé la désignation pour la première fois.

Au Canada, nous avons une force militaire avant d'avoir un pays, avant la Confédération », a expliqué le ministre MacKay. « Les racines de notre service militaire remontent à loin, particulièrement dans ce coin de pays. »

William Hall était le premier Néo-Écossais de l'histoire du Canada et du Commonwealth – et le premier homme noir – à recevoir la Croix de Victoria « pour ses actions d'un courage inouï au service de la Royal Navy en Inde », d'expliquer le ministre MacKay. William Hall s'est joint à la Royal Navy en 1852 et a servi pendant 25 ans, avant de revenir au pays à la ferme familiale à Hantsport, où il est décédé en 1904.

« La désignation du centre est une belle occasion à saisir : William Hall possédait les qualités que les hommes et les femmes de la 14^e Escadre visent à émuler aujourd'hui. Même de nos jours, la mention du nom de William Hall remplit les Néo-Écossais et les Canadiens de fierté. Nous devons nous souvenir de ceux qui ont servi avant nous, qui ont pavé la voie pour nous. »

Le ministre MacKay a poursuivi en déclarant que « le service est l'amour en action », et que les membres de l'équipe militaire qui voient à la santé de leurs collègues militaires aujourd'hui « veillent à ce que les gens soient capables d'accomplir un travail qui, souvent, peut s'avérer très difficile et exigeant. »

Le centre de santé a ouvert ses portes en janvier, presque un an avant la date prévue d'occupation, mais il a nécessité de nombreuses années de planification et de préparation.

Les travaux de construction ont débuté à l'automne 2010, et de nombreux partenaires ont contribué à voir à ce que les besoins des travailleurs de la santé en matière d'aménagement des locaux soient bien pris en considération, et à veiller ensuite à ce que ces besoins se concrétisent en des conceptions sur papier et en la construction d'espaces concrets. Ces partenaires, y compris les membres du personnel des Forces armées canadiennes qui ont reçu les services durant la construction et le déménagement – ont reçu des remerciements pour leur professionnalisme, leur dévouement – et leur patience

A big attraction: Lingard's own handmade hair accessories, made with ribbons, beads and trimmings – even personalized with initials and names, showing off sports teams' signature colours, or colour-matched to outfits.

"I look for things that are fun, comfortable – and inexpensive," says Lingard. "These are quality products and specialty items, and we see all sorts of people come in looking for what we offer."

That special outfit or extra touch can be found in Kherington's Klose in Kingston.

Candice Lingard opened her specialty children's shop in July 2012, after four years of operating a similar online business.

"It became too big," Lingard says: Kherington's Klose opened its doors.

Fit, healthy and happy

14 Wing Greenwood personnel have the work of the base's Personnel Support Program to thank for the recent win of the Canadian Forces Health and Physical Fitness Award 2012. Greenwood was named the Royal Canadian Air Force recipient, awarded at the May 9 base honours and awards presentation.

"It goes to show these folks here in their PSP uniforms are really working hard every day to support our personnel and their families," said 14 Wing Greenwood Commander Colonel Jim Irvine.

"Great job."

The award was presented with remarks from Lieutenant-General Yvan Blondin, RCAF commander: "Your accomplishments demonstrate a commitment to implementing the CF Health and Physical Fitness Strategy."

PSP manager Mike Taylor was pleased with the long-awaited award's presentation, as it acknowledges the defence team members' continuing effort behind a strategy meant to encompass a full calendar of activities. The initial strategy has been adapted every year since 2011/2012, with a focus on a fit and healthy Greenwood population – and a happier work and life environment.

Ex-Air Force members sought

The Air Force Intake & Liaison Team (AFI&LT) is working with Canadian Forces Recruiting Group (CFRG) to get the word out the Air Force is actively seeking ex-military members fully trained in an Air Force occupation.

The AFI&LT, based in Ottawa, works to identify and staff initiatives aimed at improving the re-enrollment of Air Force personnel into the Canadian Armed Forces. Due to manning shortages, personnel from Air Force occupations are being sought. In an effort to reduce waiting times, the AFI&LT is working closely with CFRG and the career managers to expedite re-enrollment.

There are many advantages to re-enrolling fully qualified personnel. The Air Force recognizes the qualities of leadership, maturity and experience former personnel bring with them. We have found these personnel can immediately contribute to aerospace capability. Those returning are an indicator to serving personnel the CAF remains an employer of choice.

People interested in receiving more information are asked to contact the AFI&LT via email or through one of its toll free numbers. Officers, please contact AFILT-EALFA@forces.gc.ca or 1 866-355-8195; non commissioned members, please contact AFILT-EALFA@forces.gc.ca or 1-877-877-2741.

Smoke Eaters take intersection title

Sergeant Paul Veinot

Another exciting hockey season has come to a close in 14 Wing Greenwood Intersection play.

In the "A" division, a six-team round robin determined play-off seeding, with only the top four advancing. Having finished in first place, the Smoke Eaters faced off against the team from Wing Telecommunications and Information Services (WTIS) in a best-of-three series. The Smoke Eaters took the series in two, 3-2 and 4-2, and went on to the "A" division final to face arch rival, the OMS Screaming Beavers.

This series was played at a very fast tempo, with the play going back and forth. Once Henman opened the scoring for the Smoke Eaters, the momentum shifted. With the speed of the forwards, a solid defence and an outstanding performance by Veinot in goal (almost unbeatable, allowing only one goal), the Smoke Eaters come out 6-1 in the first game. In the second contest, the Screaming Beavers were a more determined team, but couldn't keep up the relentless pace set by forwards Henman, Sankey, Beer and Holmes. Add timely goal scoring by Arsenault and Moore, a defensive core anchored by team captain Davis and solid play by Roberts, Chamberlain and Bungay; and this was the Big Smoke's game. Despite a late charge by the Screaming Beavers' Jonathan Violy, who tied the game at three; with only two-and-a-half minutes left, Henman sniped a beautiful wrist shot through goaltender Pitcher's five hole to put the Smoke Eaters back on top 6-3. They captured the Schooner Cup for the second year in a row, and for three of the past four years.

The Smoke Eaters would like to thank the league committee and officials for another good season, and look forward to next year.

Valley Wild Peewee AAs team of the year

The all-female Valley Wild Peewee AAs played the 2012/2013 season in the highest division available in Nova Scotia, the three-team South Conference Female Hockey League Pee Wee AA Division, made up of players from East Uniacke to Bridgetown.

This tight knit group captured the hearts of many younger female players, impressing with their work ethic, speed, skill, puck management and understanding of the game.

In October, Valley defeated the Dartmouth Whalers 2-0 to take gold at the Chicks with Sticks tournament, and then followed with the PEI Sweetheart Tournament title. The Valley Wild finished first overall in the South Conference taking 40 points and earning a 19-3-2 record.

The girls worked hard preparing for league playoffs and their provincial tournament, with the advantage of hosting the 2013 Peewee AA Female provincials at the Kings Mutual Century Centre in Berwick. They continued working hard, and came away with a 4-0-1 provincial tournament record – and the overall title of

Special Olympics bowling winds up

Pat Nixon,
Assistant coach

Another successful season of 5-pin bowling has ended for Special Olympians in Kingston/ Greenwood and surrounding areas. The Olympians had a great year of friendly competition, sportsmanship and friendship. All the bowlers improved their averages from the start of the year, with many achieving personal bests for high scores. Cassie, Rory and Sue all had the distinction of bowling 200-plus point games.

The program ran every second Thursday evening from October through May, with a total of 29 games played by each athlete. We had 23 bowlers registered this year, with new bowlers joining after Christmas. The program offers a great opportunity for those with a developmental special need to participate in a sport program to the best of their ability, make friends, socialize and enjoy the spirit of friendly competition. The Kings Special Olympics bowling program will resume in the fall, and is always accepting new athletes.

Some of the bowlers will compete in the Nova Scotia Special Olympic Summer Games, being held at Acadia University July 12 to 14.

In order to qualify for the national games next year, all bowlers must compete on 5-pin bowling lanes. The July 13 bowling competition will be held at the Greenwood Bowling Centre. This is an excellent opportunity to see the athletes in action here in the local area.

Special Olympics bowlers would like to thank Kathy Alexander and her team at the Greenwood Bowling Centre for helping to make the bi-weekly bowling sessions enjoyable and special. All the athletes consider them friends.

The Kingston/ Greenwood area Special Olympics bowlers have just completed a fun and successful season, playing out of the Greenwood Bowling Centre.

Mind-body connection: fight, flight and freeze

We are all born with complex defence mechanisms within our body. These systems help to warn us when danger is near and protect us in stressful and unsafe situations. These systems are adaptive and helpful for survival and can be seen in many animals too. Think of a deer in the woods that hears a noise, or smells something peculiar. What does it do? How does it ensure its safety? However, these systems can also become unhelpful if they are engaged frequently or in times when they aren't needed. This is when our natural defence mechanisms can become problematic. This workshop is intended to provide basic information on the function of the brain and the nervous system when it senses danger, the different kinds of traumatic events that can initiate this response, and what results when the mind-body connection is not being helpful. This informative session would benefit anyone interested in learning more about trauma, its effects on the mind and body, and ways to seek help for those who might be struggling with a response to a traumatic event. Call the Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre to register by May 31, 765-5611. The session is June 3, 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

La connexion corps-esprit : combat, fuite, immobilité

Nous avons tous en nous des mécanismes de défense complexes et innés. Ces systèmes nous avertissent des dangers imminents et nous protègent dans des situations stressantes et dangereuses. Ces systèmes d'adaptation sont utiles pour notre survie et sont aussi observés chez de nombreux animaux. Pensez au chevreuil dans la forêt qui sent ou entend quelque chose de particulier. Que fait-il? Comment assure-t-il sa sécurité? Ces systèmes peuvent cependant nous nuire quand ils sont sollicités fréquemment ou à des moments où ils ne sont pas nécessaires. C'est alors que nos mécanismes de défense naturels deviennent problématiques. Cet atelier vise à fournir des renseignements fondamentaux sur les fonctions du cerveau et du système nerveux quand une personne sent un danger, les différents types d'événement traumatisants qui peuvent initier une telle réaction et ce qui se produit quand la connexion corps-esprit devient nuisible. L'atelier serait utile à toute personne qui désire en apprendre davantage sur les traumatismes, leurs effets sur le corps et l'esprit et les moyens de trouver de l'aide pour ceux qui ont du mal à réagir à un événement traumatisant.

Le date limite d'inscription et le vendredi le 31 Mai, 765-5611 pour cet atelier le 3 juin 18 h à 20 h, au Centre de ressources pour les familles militaires de Greenwood.

Fun By The Numbers Level: Beginner
Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20
Aries, you don't always have the answers when it comes to your romantic relationship, but that's alright. There are no rule books for this type of thing; you learn as you go.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21
Taurus, your life has been relatively tranquil. However, you have been itching to do something fun and adventurous to turn things around. This could be the week for that.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21
You may find that one of your coworkers is more critical of your work than usual, Gemini. Don't take it the wrong way, as constructive criticism can be a good thing.

CANCER - June 22/July 22
Cancer, things have calmed down considerably in your life. This week presents a good opportunity to take a trip that is geared entirely around your interests.

LEO - July 23/Aug 23
Leo, remain modest about your personal and professional accomplishments this week. Now is not the time to show off. Be humble in your conversations.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22
Virgo, as inviting as a situation may look, appearances can be deceiving. You may want to dip your toe into the water before you dive right into something.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23
Libra, this week you need to be extra cautious if you are in the middle of any business dealings. All it can take is the slightest misstep to turn everything around.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22
Scorpio, things beyond your control may be contributing to sour feelings this week. Look at the bright side of any situation and you can probably find a solution that works.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21
Sagittarius, you are seldom soft spoken, but this week you may have to be even more assertive to get your point across. Otherwise your opinions might fall on deaf ears.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20
Try to get outside as much as possible this week, Capricorn. The fresh air and sunshine can do wonders for your mood. Plus, you can get in some exercise.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18
Do not follow the examples of others when they act irrationally to a certain situation, Aquarius. Although it can be difficult, you need to take the high road.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20
Take a chance and express all of your goals and hopes this week, Pisces. Others may be surprised at what you have to say.

Annapolis Valley Health

Diversity is essential to the vision, mission, and strategic direction of the Department of Health and Wellness and the health system at large. The Government of Nova Scotia has an Employment Equity Policy which applies to the appointment of members of Boards governing the Health system of Nova Scotia. Our goal is to have District Health Authority Boards that are representative of our communities. We welcome applications from Aboriginal People, African Nova Scotians, other Racially Visible Persons, Persons with Disabilities, and Women in positions or occupations where they are under-represented. We value the representation of citizens of all ages. If you are a member of one of the equity groups you are encouraged to self-identify, on either your application, covering letter or your resume.

Safe grads say thanks

West Kings' Teens Against Drinking and Driving thanks all who contributed to the school's safe grad fundraisers this year. The recent turkey dinner raised $5,300, for a total of over $13,000.00. These funds support a fun and memorable safe grad following the graduation prom June 24, a drug- and alcohol-free event that is an important alternative for the Class of 3013. School staff, TADD mentors, students and parents all helped; and TADD gratefully acknowledges the continued support of community businesses and service organizations, particularly the Aylesford and Kingston Lions Clubs. Scotia Bank Greenwood volunteered at the April dinner – and matched the proceeds for the evening.
