Pick it up FOD awareness an airman's daily duty

Sara Keddy, Managing editor

"Airmanship 101" includes a lesson on FODs – foreign object damage – and it's a lesson every airman should remember.

14 Wing Greenwood held its annual FOD walk May 16, but Wing FOD Officer Major Aleem Sajan wants to reinforce the importance of sharp eyes – every day.

"FOD walks are supposed to happen every day. It's part of core airmanship, part of our training," he says. "There are things that are supposed to happen every day, there are points to step out and check – even for pebbles.

"The operational effect of losing an aircraft – or its occupants – because of FOD is unimaginable, and this is something we have control over."

A blowing piece of litter, a branch, a scrap of torn away clothing, a tool or fitting left behind, a bird – all of these count as FODs, and all of these can cause big problems. Greenwood's flight safety program follows the extensive Royal Canadian Air Force protocols for FOD awareness, detection and removal; Sajan says there are particular issues of concern here: high winds in the Valley bring in materials from off the airfield – and even off base, the high level of construction on the base, with many military and outside contractors storing and moving materials around; and a level of "comfort" personnel may feel as they become settled in "same-old" surroundings.

"When you're living and working in a community, you take things for granted – you don't see things that are right in front of you," Sajan says. "And, it's not just on the airfield – you wouldn't leave stuff at a campsite, there would be bears and a mess. If you live in the Residential Housing Units, or in the community, if you see loose stuff, there's potential that could end up on the airfield. Don't just leave it.

"It's everyone's responsibility," Sajan says.

And, if people find FODs they're unsure of, let the wing FOD officer or Wing Flight Safety know – metal fittings could be off an aircraft, litter could be coming from unsecured waste bins and workers unfamiliar with FOD prevention checklists need to be educated.

"We take pride in our community, and pride in what we do for a living," says Sajan. "We've got to do this."

Chief Warrant Officer Mario Roussel was in the field – the airfield, that is – as 14 Wing Greenwood, personnel were out on the annual FOD walk (foreign object damage) May 16.

Help clean up our neighbourhood

Major Rob Pitcher,
14 Wing Community Council president

The 14 Wing Community Council is organizing a cleanup of the Residential Housing Units (RHUs) neighbourhood June 7 from 9:30 a.m. to noon, rain or shine.

Volunteers are welcome, come out and lend a hand, meet your ward reps, maybe make some friends in the neighbourhood and possibly win a prize.

Wear old clothes you don't mind getting a little dirty, and throw on a pair of gloves (some will be provided if you need them). We'll provide the garbage bags, safety equipment (e.g. vests and gloves) and will arrange to pick up the bags once we're finished.

The plan is to meet at the community centre at 9:30 a.m. and divide volunteers into each of the six wards and clean up the common areas, playgrounds, grassy and wooded areas, as well as along the streets and parking lots.

If you have specific needs, let us know and we'll see what we can do. If you'd like to volunteer or just make a difference in the community, let me know, together we can make it happen: Major Rob Pitcher, 14 Wing Community Council president, 902-765-1494 local 3670, or robert.pitcher@forces.gc.ca

Aidez à nettoyer notre voisinage

Le conseil communautaire de la 14^e Escadre organise le nettoyage de quartier des Unités de Logement Résidentiels (ULR) le 7 juin, de 09h30 à 12h00, peu importe la météo.

Les bénévoles sont les bienvenus. Venez donner un coup de main, rencontrer vos représentants de quartier, peut-être même vous faire quelques amis ou bien remporter un prix.

Portez de vieux vêtements que vous n'avez pas peur de salir, ainsi qu'une paire de gants. Nous fournirons les sacs à ordures, ainsi que l'équipement de sécurité (vestes et gants), et nous nous arrangerons pour ramasser les sacs lorsque nous aurons fini.

L'objectif est de se réunir au centre communautaire à 09h30 et de répartir les bénévoles dans chacun des six quartiers. Avec de la chance, nous aurons assez de représentants de chaque quartier afin de nettoyer nos espaces communs respectifs. Ce qui comprend les terrains de jeux, les zones boisées, les bords de rues ainsi que les aires de stationnement.

Si vous avez des besoins spécifiques, faites-le nous savoir, et nous verrons ce que nous pouvons faire. Si vous désirez faire du bénévolat ou simplement faire une différence dans votre communauté, faites le moi savoir. Ensemble, nous pouvons y arriver. Major Rob Pitcher, Président du Conseil Communautaire de la 14^e Escadre, 902-765-1494 poste 3670, ou Robert.pitcher@forces.gc.ca.

Des militaires de tous les grades arpentent l'aérodrome et les terrains de la 14^e Escadre Greenwood, l'oeil bien ouvert, pour repérer des déchets et tout autre corps étranger susceptible d'endommager les aéronefs.

La sensibilisation au FOD est le devoir quotidien de tout aviateur

Sara Keddy,
Rédactrice en chef

« Discipline aéronautique 101 » comprend une leçon sur le FOD (foreign object damage ou dommage par un corps étranger), et c'est une leçon que tout aviateur doit retenir.

La 14^e Escadre Greenwood a tenu une marche du FOD le 16 mai, mais l'officier du FOD de l'Escadre, le major Aleem Sajan, veut renforcer l'importance d'avoir l'oeil ouvert – tous les jours.

« Des marches du FOD devraient avoir lieu tous les jours. Cela est au coeur même de la discipline aéronautique, de notre formation », dit-il. « Il y a des choses qui sont censées se produire tous les jours, il y a des points où il faut débarquer et vérifier – si ce n'est que la présence de cailloux.

« L'incidence opérationnelle de la perte d'un aéronef – ou de ses occupants – en raison du FOD est inimaginable, et c'est quelque chose que nous pouvons contrôler. »

Un bout de vieux papier au vent, un morceau de tissu déchiré, un outil ou un raccord oublié, un oiseau – tout cela peut être du FOD, et être la cause de gros problèmes. Le programme de sécurité des vols de Greenwood suit les protocoles détaillés de l'Aviation royale canadienne pour la sensibilisation au FOD, sa détection et son enlèvement; le Maj Sajan explique qu'il y a des préoccupations particulières ici : les grands vents de la Vallée transportent des matières provenant de l'extérieur de l'aérodrome, et même de la base; la fréquence élevée des travaux de construction dans la base, durant lesquels de nombreux militaires et entrepreneurs de l'extérieur stockent et dé-placent des matériaux; un niveau de « confort » que le personnel peut parfois ressentir lorsqu'ils deviennent habitués au même « bon vieil » environnement.

« Lorsque vous vivez et travaillez dans une communauté, vous prenez des choses pour acquis – vous ne voyez plus ce qui, parfois, se trouve droit devant vous », de dire le Maj Sajan. « Et ce n'est pas seulement à l'aérodrome – vous ne laisseriez pas toutes sortes de choses à un emplacement de camping, il y aurait des ours et tout un beau gâchis. Si vous vivez dans des unités de loge-

L'adjudant-chef de l'Escadre Pierrot Jetté (à gauche), l'officier du FOD de l'Escadre, le major Aleem Sajan (au centre) et le capitaine Mariano Arruda posent à côté d'une montagne de débris recueillis durant la marche du FOD le 16 mai.

ment résidentiel ou dans la communauté et que vous laissez des choses susceptibles de partir au vent, il se pourrait qu'elles se retrouvent dans l'aérodrome. Faites attention. C'est la responsabilité de tous », explique le Maj Sajan.

Et si les gens trouvent du FOD et ne savent pas trop quoi en faire, il vaut mieux en aviser l'officier du FOD de l'Escadre ou la Sécurité des vols de l'Escadre – des pièces en métal pourraient provenir d'un aéronef, des débris pourraient provenir d'un bac à déchets mal fermé, et les travailleurs qui ne connaissent pas bien les listes de contrôle pour la prévention du FOD doivent être éduqués.

« Nous sommes fiers de notre communauté, et nous sommes fiers de ce que nous faisons pour gagner notre vie », de dire le Maj Sajan. « Nous nous devons de le faire. »

Testing limits of challenge

Greenwood AESOP out in front of CAF technology

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

If you value the work of Pat Lambert, keep him busy.

The Royal Canadian Air Force warrant officer admits he gets bored, and major career moves in his life back up the fact he needs a challenge.

Lambert is the senior aviation electronics sensor operator with Maritime Proving and Evaluation Unit at 14 Wing Greenwood, in Nova Scotia.

"This was all a random thing," he says of his now 22-year career in the Canadian Armed Forces, the first of his family to choose a military path.

Born in Jamaica, his parents immigrated to Canada when he was young. His dad was a mechanic, his mom a nurse, who then opened her own travel agency. Lambert loved school, and headed into a university business degree.

"I was in university a year, just working 24 hours a day for school and to pay for school, and I thought, 'There has to be a better solution,'" he says.

He working as a salesman, moving anything and everything he could in his employer's warehouse to whoever would buy it: books, cars, "whatever."

"I was tired, going door to door and I saw a big window and an office chair and thought I'd go in and see if they wanted what I had."

He'd walked into a CAF recruiting centre, and the major came out and said he'd take care of him. Lambert went on to fill out CAF paperwork, pass all the aptitude tests and pick a trade: pilot. When the CAF closed the trade, Lambert signed up for the Navy as a radar operator.

After 12 years on high-readiness ships, Lambert had itchy feet. His reward for "topping out" of two years of Victoria class submarine training was a promotion - but not associated with actual submarine service. While deployed on Operation Apollo, he struck up a conversation with the ship's Sea King pilots, borrowed one of the crew's on-the-job training books and read it cover to cover. Before he'd even arrived back in Canada after the deployment, he'd sent the letters to re-muster with the Air Force.

"I was demoted, sure, but that didn't matter much: it's whether you're enjoying life."

From 2004, Lambert has combined his naval sensor management and electro optic infrared systems. His job now: manage the AESOP cell of six technicians at 14 Wing testing and evaluation all the "dry" sensors destined for service on the Block III CP 140 Aurora.

"The Block III work is all the 'technical tube': all the new sensors and acoustics, and we make sure they work as advertised. Our capabilities with this will move leaps and bounds from the long-time anti-submarine warfare to so much more. Things the CAF wants, we test it."

Lambert says his cell includes some "really smart people - technical experts."

"We're looking for glitches and to see if we can break it. When we find problems, we make recommendations; or, if it doesn't work, we ask, 'What's next?'"

Lambert takes relish in his

AESOPs' out-front role for the RCAF.

"We're the first to see new equipment and use it, and everyone else wants to know when they'll get it."

Greenwood AESOPs had a role in the recent proving of beyond-the-line-of-sight technology, tested this past winter in Yellowknife. The Aurora's improved ability to send real-time video and data via satellite to analysts in operations centres is a big plus for resource management, safety of personnel and speed of response. Lambert, who spends much of his workday ensuring his cell members are scheduled for testing, project work and their own training requirements; left his desk to be a part of the Northern testing crew.

And, that's the satisfaction that's keeping him settled with the RCAF - for now.

"The military becomes a lifestyle. You're part of a group, and you want to see the group move from point A to point B and know you've been a part of that success."

Warrant Officer Pat Lambert, 14 Wing Greenwood's senior aviation electronics sensor operator, likes a challenge.

Base drivers rewarded for road safety work

Master Corporal RM Donaldson, MSE Safety

As the sun begins to shine, school is also coming to an end. Kids will soon be outside playing and enjoying the hot summer days. It becomes more important than ever to remember the importance of driving safely in the communities in which we live. National Road Safety Week May 13 to 19 focused on five themes: backing up, misjudging clearance, poor judgement, speed and lack of control.

To get everything started at 14 Wing Greenwood, Tim Brown from Brown's Auto Salvage provided a damaged vehicle for a display at the base's main gate, and next to the Road Safety Week sign. The MSE Safety staff conducted daily safety patrols around 14 Wing and Detachment Aldershot, watching for drivers demonstrating safe driving skills. Always be aware of your surroundings, the size of your vehicle and the size of your trailer if you have one. If you are unsure of something around your vehicle, never hesitate to ask someone to assist you by checking for obstructions or guiding your vehicle. If there is no one available, get out and take a look around..

Safe drivers were rewarded with a small gift of appreciation. Approximately 200 safety gifts were handed out. By the end of the week, two draws were made for roadside safety kits. The first draw winner was Master Corporal M.R.E.V. Gauthier from 26 Canadian Forces Health Services, and the second draw winner was Corporal M.R. Pontbriand from WLEO TEME.

GMFRC community needs assessment 2013

The 14 Wing Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre (GMFRC) is conducting a community needs assessment (CNA) between June 1 and June 30 to identify the needs and interests of the military family community. Your input is crucial to this process. By filling out this questionnaire, you can identify the programs and services that are important to your family. Your responses will help us evaluate our existing programs and will provide direction for future services. The CNA is a key factor in determining current and future funding for GMFRC initiatives.

Our CNA will be distributed in different communities around Greenwood June 7 and will be picked up June 10. It will also be available on-line at www.familyforce.ca/sites/greenwood and at our GMFRC front desk. The completed questionnaire can also be dropped off at the GMFRC in the AVM Morfee Centre on School Road, Greenwood. We will accept completed questionnaires until 8 a.m. July 2.

Please take a few minutes to fill out our questionnaire. When complete, you may fill in the attached ballot to be eligible for our draw of an XBOX 360 Kinect with extra games. Draw will be July 6.

CRFMG évaluation des besoins de la communauté 2013

Entre le 1er et le 30 juin, le Centre de ressources pour les familles des militaires de la 14^e Escadre Greenwood (CRFMG) procèdera à une évaluation des besoins de la communauté afin de cerner les besoins et les intérêts des familles des militaires et pour ce faire, votre rétroaction est essentielle.

Lorsque vous remplirez le questionnaire, vous pourrez nommer les programmes et les services qui sont importants pour votre famille. Vos réponses nous aideront à évaluer les programmes existants et à nous guider dans l'élaboration de services futurs. L'évaluation des besoins de la communauté constitue un facteur clé dans la prise de décision sur le financement actuel et futur des initiatives du CRFMG.

L'ÉBC sera distribuée dans diverses collectivités voisines de Greenwood le vendredi 7 juin et sera ramassée le lundi 10 juin. L'évaluation sera également disponible en ligne au www.familyforce.ca/sites/greenwood et à la réception du CRFMG. Le questionnaire dûment rempli peut également être remis au CRFMG, au Centre AVM Morfee, School Road, à Greenwood, au plus tard à 8 h, le mardi 2 juillet.

Veuillez prendre quelques minutes pour remplir le questionnaire. Remplissez également le billet d'inscription qui y est joint pour avoir la chance de remporter un XBOX 360 Kinect et des jeux additionnels. Le tirage au sort aura lieu le vendredi 6 juillet 2013.

Fondation de la famille

Bénévoles du CRFM, employés ayant apprécié le soutien solide qu'ils ont reçu l'an dernier

Sara Keddy,
Rédactrice en chef

Le travail mené l'an dernier au Centre de ressources des familles des militaires (CRFM) de Greenwood s'est traduit par l'établissement de bases solides.

Le CRFM a tenu sa réunion annuelle le 22 mai, au cours de laquelle le conseil des bénévoles et les cadres dirigeants du Centre ont présenté les rapports annuels, les états financiers et ont présenté une liste d'administrateurs pour 2013-2014.

En plus des affaires officielles, nous avons eu droit au cadeau « loufoque » traditionnel, qui est présenté par les membres du conseil à tous les employés du CRFM. Cette année, une plante en pot a été offerte en reconnaissance des efforts déployés par le personnel pour que nos vies soient remplies de la chaleur et de la beauté du printemps et pour permettre à nos familles militaires de grandir et de s'épanouir », a affirmé la présidente du conseil, Megan Venner.

« Mon mari et moi sommes déployés. Nous quitterons Greenwood après y avoir passé huit ans, ce qui en fait l'endroit où j'ai vécu le plus longtemps depuis mon enfance. Mes enfants ont été élevés ici, et le fait de quitter Greenwood après avoir été présidente du conseil représente l'aboutissement de mes efforts ici. Ce fut un privilège pour moi de diriger ce conseil et de travailler avec ses membres. »

Mme Venner a mentionné avoir travaillé derrière les coulisses l'an dernier en vue d'apporter des améliorations à la structure et à la gouvernance du conseil, à la protection contre les risques et aux règlements administratifs. Par conséquent, elle est assurée que le conseil – qui est déjà complet au moment où la transition s'effectue – « est déjà à l'œuvre... pour protéger les familles de la 14^e Escadre et pour conserver le dynamisme et la viabilité du Centre. »

Une grande partie des efforts déployés font suite à un détournement de fonds qui a été reporté à la même réunion annuelle l'an dernier.

« Le conseil a passé beaucoup de temps à récupérer les fonds qui nous reviennent à la suite d'un règlement juridique qui a été conclu... » a affirmé Mme Venner. « Nous avons collaboré avec la police militaire qui est chargée de l'enquête et nous avons bon espoir que l'affaire sera réglée sous peu. »

Le trésorier du conseil a présenté les états financiers de 2012-2013 qui se chiffraient à 1 105 635 $, et étaient donc inférieurs au budget (1 170 118 $). Les salaires, y compris ceux des employés du programme d'éducation de la petite enfance et des services de garde du CRFM, représentaient plus de 890 000 $ de ce montant. Les coûts de programme réels totalisaient 122 350 $.

La directrice générale du CRFM, Margaret Reid, a affirmé en son nom et en le nom de ses employés, qu'il était inspirant de travailler avec la collectivité militaire.

« Nous sommes entourés de familles militaires déployées partout au pays et dans le monde qui se construisent une vie peu importe où ils vont – et nous avons l'occasion de nous asseoir et de discuter avec une épouse, de rassembler les gens, d'accueillir les nouveaux arrivants à Greenwood et de les aider à trouver leur chemin et à établir des liens. »

Elle a tout particulièrement félicité le conseil de son succès : « votre responsabilité est grande – exploiter une entreprise, renforcer les capacités, connaître les finances et la gestion du risque et rendre des comptes – c'est un véritable plaisir de travailler avec vous. »

Elle a également affirmé que le CRFM ne pouvait faire son travail sans l'appui complet des chefs de la 14^e Escadre.

« Vous répondez toujours à l'appel lorsque nous décidons d'aller rejoindre nos familles, et cela est très important pour les familles et les employés qui vous voient en train de les soutenir. »

Le Colonel Jim Irvine, commandant de la 14^e Escadre, a dit que cette réponse n'était pas difficile.

« Il est très réconfortant pour moi de savoir qu'on prend soin de nos gens de façon professionnelle et avec entrain ici ». « À tous les membres du conseil, merci énormément. Vous faites preuve d'un grand professionnalisme : vous donnez des directives aux employés et vous me donnez de la confiance. »

« Je ne m'inquiète pas pour le CRFM. »

Le conseil a accepté la liste des nouveaux administrateurs : Justin Kubis, Annie LaVoie et Annette Davidson qui se sont de nouveau offerts pour un mandat de deux ans; Kristin Gillis, Anita Hudak, Linday Guy, Grant Kelly, Yvette Ranganham-Cowan, Darla Randall et Tracey Everett comme membres élus; et Tressa Haney dont le mandat se poursuit.

MFRC volunteers, staff pleased with solid support through past year

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

A strong footing is the result of a year of work at the Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre.

The MFRC held its annual meeting May 22, with the volunteer board and centre executive presenting annual reports, financial statements and putting forward a slate of officers for 2013/ 2014.

Along with the official business, though, was the traditional “silly” gift presented by board members to all the MFRC staff: this year, a potted plant, in recognition of staff members’ efforts to “bring spring’s warmth and beauty to our lives, and allow our military families to grow and thrive,” said board chairwoman Megan Venner.

“My husband and I are posted, leaving Greenwood after eight years here – it’s the longest place I’ve lived since I was a kid. My kids have been raised here, and me leaving as chair has been the culmination of my time here. Leading this board, working with this centre has been a privilege.”

Venner pointed to work over the past year behind the scenes on board structure and governance, risk protection and bylaw improvements. As a result, she is confident the board – already full as the transition takes place – “is already hard at work... protecting 14 Wing families and keeping this a vibrant and viable centre.”

Much of this focus comes after a misappropriation of funds was reported at this same meeting last year.

“The board has spent a considerable amount of time working to collect on a legal settlement reached...,” Venner said. “We have been working with Military Police investigating the matter and are hopeful we’ll see some closure soon.”

Board treasurer Justin Kubis presented the 2012/ 2013 statements, which came in under budget ($1,170,118) at $1,105,635. Salaries, including staff for the MFRC’s childcare and early education program, accounted for over $890,000 of that. Actual program costs totalled $122,350.

MFRC executive director Margaret Reid said, for her and her staff, it is inspiring to work with the military community.

“When you are surrounded by military families who get posted around the country and the world, and forge a life for themselves wherever they go – we have the opportunity to sit with a spouse, bring people together, see new people come to Greenwood and find their way and make their connections.”

She particularly commended the board for its success:

“you’re responsibility is large – running a business, building capacity, a knowledge of finances and risk management and being accountable – it is a pleasure to work with you.”

She also said the MFRC couldn’t do its work without the full support of 14 Wing leadership.

“Not once when we make the call to come meet our families do you not answer, and it does mean something to families and our staff to see you there supporting them.”

14 Wing Commander Colonel Jim Irvine said that response is not difficult.

“It gives me great comfort to know our people are being cared for professionally and cheerfully here,” he said. “To the board, thanks so much. You’re so professional: you give direction to staff and you give me confidence.”

“I don’t worry about the MFRC.”

The board accepted a new slate of officers: re-offering for two-year terms were Justin Kubis, Annie LaVoie and Annette Davidson; elected directors included Kristin Gillis, Anita Hudak, Linday Guy, Grant Kelly, Yvette Rangham-Cowan, Darla Randall and Tracey Everett. Continuing is Tressa Haney.

CAPS wraps great year

Anna Clark,
CAPS co-chair

The annual meeting of the Companion Animal Protection Society of Annapolis County took place April 27 at the Lawrencetown Municipal building. The incoming board of directors was elected and annual reports presented.

CAPS welcomes the 2013/2014 board of directors: JoAnn Cory, co-chair; Anna Clark, co-chair; Janice Desfosses, vice-chair; Meaghan Mason, secretary; Gay Riddle, treasurer; Deb Saltzman, Ronda Gouchie and David Atkinson - members at large.

From April 1, 2012 to March 31, CAPS began the year with 97 animals in care, and subsequently received 142 animals from the municipal pound. There were 165 cat adoptions and one dog adoption. Since late 2006, CAPS has found homes for 129 dogs and nearly 950 cats. There are, at present, just over 100 animals in care in eight foster homes.

In an effort to encourage the adoption of family members/siblings/ friendship groups, the Better with a Buddy BOGO program continues.

This past year, the CAPS board of directors handbook was created. This handbook is a permanent documentation of all aspects of the organization. These include the roles and responsibilities of all directors of the board, codes of conduct, the CAPS strategic plan, statistics, SOPs etc. This document is essential to pass on to future CAPS boards.

CAPS has also launched CAPS-R-US, a positive, proactive PR blitz via newspapers, newsletters, social media etc. to share "our work and our way" with all who care to learn about us.

CAPS began micro-chipping all foster animals this year in an effort to provide even more security for them once they are adopted.

A new "Baby Care Manual" orphan kitten handbook-resource program and contact number has been created by one of our directors. This is now on our website for all who seek advice and information on dealing with tiny motherless kittens and their care.

Dedicated volunteers continue to fundraiser tirelessly to ensure sufficient funds to care for our foster animals, and we continue to seek new volunteers and adopter. The sponsor-a-pet program continues as popular as ever. CAPS attends as many public events as possible. We are very grateful and honoured to be the chosen charity, this year, of CFB 14 Wing Maintenance Squadron.

Sincere thanks to all CAPS volunteers, members, supporters (financial and otherwise) and our partnering veterinarians who have made this year a wonderful success, and brought renewed hope to so many beautiful companion animals. Sincere thanks go also to the Municipality of Annapolis County for its continuing working partnership with CAPS.

Food bank real Pull the Pumper winner

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

Ten teams hit the course set for the 4th annual Pull the Pumper Relay event at 14 Wing Greenwood May 23, in aid of the Upper Room Food Bank in Kingston.

While there were winners amongst the competitors, the overall winner was the food bank itself.

"We did OK," says event organizer Master Corporal Trevor Evans, of 14 Wing Fire and Emergency Services.

"The Upper Room Food Bank has been serving the community, helping those in dire need, so it seems fitting the 14 Wing community give back to this worthwhile charity."

The total raised, as teams canvassed for food and cash donations up to the event, came to 1,197 pounds of food and $1,098.25.

"This speaks highly of our 14 Wing community and, for this, I sincerely appreciate everyone's efforts. Thank you so much."

An event BBQ manned by volunteers from 11 Hangar, the fire hall and the Flight Line Café; Forbes Kia attended for the second year, filling the trunk of a Kia Rio with food donations; a silent auction on a donated GPS system (from Canadian Tire, won by Chief Warrant Officer Mario Rousel) and the raffle of a wooden fire truck (made by Master Corporal Aaron Evans, won by Sergeant William Griffin) all added funds and goods to the total.

The firefighting Blue Crew, "Blue Steele," won first place in the relay challenge, with a time of 3:43.50. Rounding out the top 10 were "assorted firefighting crew members, including representation from Shearwater, "The Expendables," in 3:50.48; the MP&EU Terns in 3:53.22, Wing Operations in 3:54.54, the 405 Squadron "Pump Finders" in 4:01.75, the 413 Squadron Tuskers in 4:07.24, Team Ducimus from 405 Squadron in 4:11.56, the Relentless Wing Administration team in 4:11.78, the Wing TIS "Water Boys" in 4:12.21 and TEME in 4:13.05.

Organizers thank the many event sponsors and local organizations for their support: Kingston Atlantic Superstore, Greenwood Sobey's, Kingston Pharmasave, Greenwood Canadian Tire, Forbes Kia, Brother's Meats, Greenwood MFRC, The Aurora Newspaper, Greenwood KFC, Greenwood McDonalds, Greenwood Tim Hortons, Greenwood Dairy Queen, Vicki's Restaurant, Pizza Delight, Accessories and Stuff, Walmart and Wing Combined Charities.

"I would also like to personally thank all of the volunteers who made this event happen. I really appreciate your hard work," Evans says. "We have collected for those in our local community who are in need, at a time when it is needed the most. Without your help, this event would have not been possible and many families in our community would have less than they do today."

The fifth Pull the Pumper event is already on 14 Wing's 2014 calendar - May 30, with Master Corporal Aaron Evans already pledging another wooden fire truck for raffling.

Unwind and recharge | Enjoy the benefits of recreation

Personnel Support Programs (PSP) is celebrating recreational activities that may feel like time-off, but are actually an essential part of a healthy, well-balanced lifestyle.

Use these tips to add more recreation to your routine, and stay active throughout postings, deployments - and everything in-between.

Going through a stressful time? Schedule in some fun

Unlike other activities that may strip us of our energy, engaging in things we enjoy actually gives us more energy to manage stress. During stressful times like deployments, families can stop having fun due to a lack of time or a decreased interest; it's even more important to schedule positive activities into stressful days to effectively manage the demands in our life.

Whether it's a morning walk with a neighbour or a Tuesday evening softball game, when life gets busy, block off some non-negotiable time for recreational activities you enjoy.

Help children reduce stress through passions and pastimes

To help children and teens unwind and keep active during stressful periods, PSP Recreation Programs are available in Canadian Armed Forces communities from coast-to-coast. Parents, take note: PSP recreation employees are also certified in HIGH FIVE® Healthy Minds for Healthy Children, which equips them to recognize common mental health challenges children may face, and nurture resiliency to help children stay strong and healthy in body and mind.

Put excuses away – Join in on the fun!

Schedule too packed for a regular activity? Attend a special event instead. Family days, barbecues, dances, race days... there is no shortage of options at your local base or wing. The next time an event sparks your interest, put excuses aside and say "yes." You'll meet new people and build a stronger community, just by taking part. Visit www.cfgateway.ca to learn more about local events.

Choose your unique path to relaxation

Recreational activities should encourage stress reduction, not stress creation! Choose activities that relax you - whether that's rock-climbing or meditation, samba lessons or band practice. There are no wrong answers - if you're clearing your mind and moving your body, recreation will leave you feeling rejuvenated.

Reconnect with a family getaway

A vacation doesn't have to be an elaborate or expensive affair. Get away with your family for a day, a weekend or longer and take the time to strengthen family bonds. The CF Appreciation Program offers a variety of discounts for military families on local and international attractions, accommodations and activities. Whether you want to rent a canoe or ride a rollercoaster, www.CFAppreciation.ca can help you plan your adventure.

Détendez-vous et faites le plein d'énergie

Les Programmes de soutien du personnel (PSP) vous invitent à prendre conscience de l'importance des loisirs qui, même s'ils ne semblent être que du temps libre, jouent un rôle crucial dans l'adoption d'un mode de vie sain et équilibré.

Lisez les conseils ci-dessous, qui vous aideront à consacrer du temps aux loisirs dans votre routine, ainsi qu'à demeurer actifs tout au long de vos affectations, de vos déploiements et de votre quotidien.

Vous vivez une période de stress? Prévoyez du temps pour vous amuser.

Contrairement aux autres activités qui peuvent saper notre énergie, faire des choses qui nous rendent heureux nous donne en fait plus d'énergie pour gérer le stress. Pendant des périodes angoissantes, comme les déploiements, les familles risquent de moins s'amuser parce qu'elles ont moins de temps à consacrer aux loisirs ou parce qu'elles s'y intéressent moins. Pourtant, il est aussi important de prévoir du temps pour les activités amusantes pendant des périodes de stress afin de pouvoir gérer efficacement les exigences de la vie.

Que ce soit faire une marche le matin avec un voisin ou jouer au softball le mardi soir, quand la vie devient mouvementée, réservez-vous du temps non négociable pour faire les loisirs que vous aimez.

Comment vous détendre? À vous de décider!

Le but des loisirs est de réduire le stress et non de l'accroître! Choisissez des activités qui vous détendent, qu'il s'agisse d'escalade, de méditation, de leçons de samba ou de répétitions de musique. Il n'y a pas de mauvais choix; si vous vous changez les idées et faites bouger votre corps, les loisirs vous revigoreront.

Aidez les enfants à réduire leur stress grâce à leurs passions et à leurs loisirs.

Les PSP offrent des programmes de loisirs dans les collectivités des FAC partout au pays pour aider les enfants et les adolescents à se détendre et à demeurer actifs en temps de stress. Parents, sachez que les préposés aux loisirs des PSP ont suivi le programme HIGH FIVE® à l'intention des enfants, ce qui leur permet de reconnaître les difficultés communes en santé mentale que les enfants risquent d'éprouver et de renforcer leur capacité d'adaptation pour qu'ils puissent demeurer sains, tant physiquement que mentalement.

Vous n'avez plus d'excuses, alors amusez-vous!

Vous ne pouvez vraiment pas inscrire une activité régulière à votre horaire chargé? Qu'à cela ne tienne, assistez plutôt à une activité spéciale. Les journées familiales, les barbecues, les jours de course... les possibilités sont nombreuses à votre base ou à votre escadre. La prochaine fois qu'une activité piquera votre intérêt, chassez toute excuse de votre esprit et allez-y. Vous rencontrerez de nouvelles personnes et renforcerez votre collectivité. C'est simple : il suffit de participer. Visitez le www.portailcommunautairefc.ca pour connaître les activités qui se déroulent dans votre région.

Renouez avec votre famille : faites une escapade.

Family shares same passions

Fred Williams,

director

For those living in the Greenwood area for a number of years, you are probably familiar with the McBean family.

I have watched the four McBean boys grow up during my time at 14 Wing Greenwood, and had the distinct pleasure of being part of a unique reunion at the 2013 Canadian Armed Forces' women's hockey nationals when son, Paul, and father, Jeff, served as members of the officiating team. It is rare to be selected to officiate at a CAF national; to have a father and son combo on the ice at the same time is almost unheard of. Paul, a second lieutenant posted in Moose Jaw, officiated back-to-back weeks, fresh off the old timers tournament and into the women's championship.

With Paul representing the Prairie and Jeff the Atlantic region, and based on the schedule of teams involved, it was Paul who wore the referee stripes on day one, strongly supported by his dad on the lines. It was great to see their interaction and

He was then posted to 409 Squadron in Comox in 1956. In 1957, he married Myrtle Allison. He received postings to No. 3 Wing with 434 Squadron in 1959, and RCAF S'Side with Neptune Servicing in 1963. In 1966, he was posted to CFB Greenwood with Argus Training. He retired in 1979 and ran Pemberton Electrical. For the past number of years, he has been with Brown's Auto Salvage Ltd. in Kingston. It is evident the entire fam-

Hats off to Jeff, Janet, Scott, Shawn, Paul and Corey for taking the time and making the choice -despite being spread across Canada - to keep their family connection a priority.

Youth test for Aikido black belts

Twelve-year-old Isabel MacDonald of Kingston and 13-year-old Victoria Mastin of Middleton have both accomplished what many other people, youth and adults alike, have only dreamed about.

May 2, in front of more than 50 spectators, these two young athletes performed an outstanding Aikido black belt test, a very physical and technically demanding test, and the result of years of training in the Aikido program offered at the gym of École Rose-des-Vents in Greenwood.

MacDonald and Mastin demonstrated outstanding skill and a superior knowledge of more than 60 techniques and throws. Their success is a testament to their dedication, hard work and devoted study over several years.

Aikido, the martial art of the Samurai, embraces many aspects of humanity through its compassion, harmony and forthright training methods. With that said, Aikido is one of the most intricate, effective and efficient martial arts in the world. MacDonald and Mastin are dedicated students, training every Tuesday and Thursday, assisting junior students in the children's class and participating in more advanced training in the adult class from time to time.

Congratulations are extended to MacDonald and Mastin from their families, their instructors and friends at the East Coast Aikido School. Youth and adults are invited to join athletes on the mats for fun and friendly study of one of the fastest growing martial arts in North America.

Fun By The Numbers

Here’s How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

horoscopes

June 2 - June 8

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20
Don’t make assumptions this week, Aries. You just can’t trust your gut instincts too much right now. It’s better to get all of the facts and act accordingly.
TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21
Playing matchmaker isn’t so easy, Taurus. You have to understand when people are compatible and when there just isn’t a spark. Let this one go.
GEMINI - May 22/June 21
Gemini, you may have to pull back your focus on a problem in order to see it in a new light. Take some time away to regroup and then you can come back at full strength.
CANCER - June 22/July 22
A romantic relationship can be a balancing act, Cancer. You will learn this first hand this week when you have to come to a compromise with your partner.
LEO - July 23/Aug 23
Leo, don’t apologize if you feel like you have to go your own way this week. Even when everyone seems to be going in another direction, sometimes you just have to set your own course.
VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22
Virgo, while others may not be able to handle the confusion this week, you are fully capable of multi-tasking and making it through unscathed.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23
Libra, you may feel more emotionally charged this week but you still have to think with your head and not your heart. A financial decision may need to be reassessed.
SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22
Scorpio, look at a situation with a practical eye. Is this really the best answer for the time being? Although you may be leaning one way, you might want to reconsider.
SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21
Sagittarius, you need to get work done this week and that can’t happen when you are continually distracted. You might have to nip this one in the bud -- quickly.
CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20
A friend needs your support more than ever, Capricorn. Go to great lengths to give this person what they need, even if it means rearranging your schedule.
AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18
An email or other correspondence from a past friend could stir up feelings you weren’t ready to deal with right now, Aquarius. Put this on the back burner until you are ready.
PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20
Pisces, you are more interested in independence this week than hanging out in large groups. This includes hanging out with your spouse or partner.

From the desk of Mu

Anne Kempton,
Beta Sigma Phi Mu Chapter

The ladies of Beta Sigma Phi Mu Chapter Greenwood hosted this year's Founder's Day banquet at the Glass House Gallery and Restaurant in Middleton April 30. Thirty-eight sorority sisters from all four chapters - XI RHO, MU, XI KAPPA and ETA MASTER - travelled from all parts of the province to attend this annual banquet in honour of our founder, Walter W Ross.

Those in attendance were able to vote for their favourite artist from the showcase Nova Scotia fine artists and artwork displayed on a wall in the restaurant.

Our special guest for the evening was Captain Denise Olson of the 14 Wing Pipes and Drums band. Denise entertained the group with stories of her career in the forces to how she became interested in playing the bagpipes. We had the distinct pleasure of having her play a few of her favourite tunes.

Anyone interested in finding out more about this international organization may visit www.betasigmaphi.org or contact incoming vice president Ann Warren at 847-0131, or Anne Kempton, outgoing vice president at 765-0277.

Social sister of Mu Chapter Ethelyn Mosher and Captain Denise Olson get acquainted before the entertainment.

Up for learning French or English in the comfort of your home?

Isabelle Leblanc,
GMFRC Second Language
Services Associate

Are you a military family member and would like to learn a second language or improve the knowledge you already have in French or English? Are you unable to attend class-led learning due to the time classes are offered? Do you require language training at a level not offered?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, the Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre has the solution for you!

The GMFRC has Rosetta Stone licences available. Rosetta Stone is an online training program that enables language learning. The simple and intuitive approach allows participants to learn a new language using a method that combines listening, reading, speaking and writing. Learners are exposed to vocabulary, grammar and pronunciation of a new language without your native language for support.

The Rosetta Stone licences are free of charge and valid for a period of six consecutive months. Using Online Language Training, each participant will get to work at their own pace; however, the participant must complete a minimum number of hours per month. Please note an audit will be conducted regularly to ensure proper use of licences.

In order to obtain a Rosetta Stone licence, each participant must complete an application form. Contact the GMFRC at 765-5611, or come visit us to get your registration form or for more information.

Apprendre le français ou l'anglais dans le confort de votre foyer, ça vous tente?

Isabelle Leblanc,
Adjointe aux services de langue seconde au CRFMG

Vous êtes membre d'une famille militaire et vous souhaitez apprendre une langue seconde ou améliorer les connaissances que vous possédez déjà en français ou en anglais?

Il est difficile pour vous de participer aux cours en classe que nous offrons en raison de conflits d'horaire?

Avez-vous besoin d'un niveau qui n'est pas offert présentement?

Si vous avez répondu oui à l'une de ces questions, le Centre de ressources pour les familles militaires de Greenwood a la solution pour vous!

Le CRFMG possède des licences d'un programme de formation en ligne appelé Rosetta Stone qui permet l'apprentissage des langues. L'approche simple et intuitive permet aux participants d'apprendre une nouvelle langue grâce à une méthode qui combine l'écoute, la lecture, l'expression orale et écrite. Les apprenants sont exposés au vocabulaire, à la grammaire et à la prononciation de la nouvelle langue sans avoir recourt à leur langue maternelle comme support.

Les licences Rosetta Stone sont gratuites et sont en vigueur pour une période de 6 mois consécutifs. Chaque participant peut travailler sur la formation linguistique en ligne à son propre rythme mais il doit s'assurer d'effectuer un minimum d'heures par mois. À noter qu'une vérification sera effectuée régulièrement afin de s'assurer d'une bonne utilisation des licences.

Pour obtenir une licence Rosetta Stone, chaque personne doit au préalable remplir un formulaire d'inscription. Communiquez avec le CRFMG au 765-5611, ou venez nous rencontrer pour obtenir votre formulaire d'inscription ou pour plus de renseignements.

*In Loving Memory of Andrea Rioux
22 March 1954 – 3 June 2012*

It's been a year now and the hole in my heart has not healed.
I know now it never will.

I thought of you today, but that is nothing new
I thought about you yesterday and days before that too.
I think of you in silence, I often speak your name.
All I have are memories and a picture in a frame.
Your memory is a keepsake, from which I'll never part.
God has you in his arms. I have you in my heart

Never Forgotten

Macdonald Museum looking for glass

The Annapolis Valley Macdonald Museum, 21 School Street in Middleton, is currently working on a glass exhibit, "Glass From the Past," which it hopes to run July 1 to September 30.

"Glass making really was an art form," says director Sherry Griffin, "and it would be wonderful to show off the beautiful work that was made here in Nova Scotia."

Although the glass was made primarily at the Nova Scotia Glass Company in Trenton, many people in the Valley have pieces which came in several different patterns. Recently, the museum received a donation of a Nova Scotia Grape and Vine covered cheese dish.

"Exhibits are more fun when the community gets involved and, when people loan these treasures, it makes for a much better exhibit" says Griffin.
