A Powerful Message

By: Muriel West

By the time this article is printed, most of us will have moved from our Remembrance Day mode onto things Christmas, as much as that is possible when one lives in such close proximity to a large military base like 14 Wing Greenwood. I, however, am still mulling over the profound impression with which I was left by the staff and students at the West Kings High School after having attended their Remembrance Day presentation on Monday Nov. 10. As my husband plays in the 14 Wing Band, I attended more to hear the band than anything as I knew they would be playing with the Pipes & Drums and I never tire of that magnificent combination. I was not disappointed. Even with reduced numbers, they were glorious. They were not, however, the highlight of my evening.

The large new gymnasium was used for something other than sport that night. It was filled with parents, teachers, kids and service men and women. One must always be impressed when teenagers discard their jeans for sombre and respectful black dress clothes to demonstrate the hallowedness of the event. Against the stark black back-drop on the stage were brilliant oversized poppies. Large screens on either side of the gym set the tone with fields of poppies. Throughout the evening those screens also provided those present with a short clip that students had made depicting the choice of one young man to serve his country and the tragic outcome. Later, portraits of those who have lost their lives in Afghanistan, one by one, silently slid across the screens. Very powerful.

Students lead in the singing of the national anthem and God Save the Queen. The last post and the lament, played by students, were flawless. Past West Kings student and celebrated musician, Rachael McLean sang a song she had written. Demi Beaumier, a young West Kings student with considerable talent also sang. A choir of female staff members entertained the room with a selection. A large group of students performed in several dramatic presentations depicting the tragic consequences of war. In Flanders Fields was recited by two young people, also students at the high school.

Remembrance Day is no longer just about my father-in-law, or my grandfather, or my great uncle the Rhodes Scholar, or countless others who are now but a memory in the family album. Afghanistan makes Remembrance Day a very current event. And the young servicemen sitting in the row ahead of me who later participated in the tribute gave a face to the sacrifices of combat.

The speaker that evening was a past student of West Kings: I knew her as Lalene Brown. Her kid brother was a classmate of my youngest child. When Lalene rose to speak of her tour in Afghanistan the room was transfixed by her message and her manner. Her presentation made her experience as a medical worker very real and relevant to the present time. Thank you, Lalene, for inspiring everyone in that gymnasium with your humble message of service.

Kids in my neighbourhood were part of that Remembrance Day tribute. Some were in the video clip. One was on stage assisting with presenting the program. What a great thing to see young people planning, preparing, and presenting an evening of respectful remembrance to stir me and this community. And I have been stirred.

Remembrance Day has passed. But our young service men and women are still on the job: still being called to places to do their job, at great risk to themselves. Their families, some of them our neighbours, wait for the phone calls and the e-mails to know their loved ones have lived to see another day. Our service men and women are tasked to go places and do things that we often give little thought to. But as long as the students at West Kings and their teachers nudge us to think about the danger and the sacrifice, our local service people must know they will not be forgotten and their sacrifices will not go unnoticed.

Thank you, students and staff of West Kings, for your powerful message. Well done.

The Hanging of the Greens

A Great Way for Those Deploying To Celebrate Christmas Early with Their Families.

Advent is a Latin word that means "coming." In days of old it referred to coming of the King or Emperor. It was a time filled with expectation, preparation and celebration.

There was expectation because long before phones or other contemporary media, no one knew the exact arrival time of the King. The arrival time was approximate. It could be anytime. Therefore, there was expectation and anticipation in the air.

Secondly, there was preparation because everyone would get themselves and their families ready for the arrival of such an important visitor. There were many plans, preparations and decorations to put in place for the arrival of the King.

And lastly, there was the enormous celebration when the Monarch arrived. It would be the grandest celebration the community had ever seen.

In the church calendar, the First Advent refers to the Coming of the Saviour of the World at Christmas and begins four Sundays before Christmas. For ten years St. Mark's Chapel has begun the Advent season with the HANGING OF THE GREENS. This is a special and different kind of worship service that combines 1) the singing of Christmas Carols, 2) the retelling of the Christmas story, 3) the explanation of Christmas symbols {tree, wreaths, candles, poinsettias, etc.} and 4) the decorating of the church sanctuary. During the service, the congregation is invited to literally "Hang the Greens" and decorate a different aspect of the sanctuary during each Christmas Carol.

This service is for EVERYBODY. And if you are deploying before Christmas this year, what a great way to celebrate the miracle of Christmas with your family before you depart.

What – The Hanging of the Greens

Where – St. Mark's Chapel

When – Sunday, November 29 at 6:00 p.m.

Why – To Get Ready for the Coming of the King (Advent)

Letter to the Editor:

When we, the West Novas, were in Italy sometimes in pursuit of the German Army, many times we were close to the Apennine Mountains. There was a railway running north and south, and the Germans made good use of it, moving their tanks and heavy artillery. Being so close to the mountains there were many tunnels and they were great to keep some guns out of sight. A ten or twelve inch gun would be moved on a flat car, when they could not be moved on a bad road after heavy rain.

When a gun was ready to fire it was propelled out of a tunnel under its own power, when fired the recoil would drive it back into the tunnel.

Many times our Air Force tried to find these guns but was unable to. Eventually they got used to the fact so they bombed and damaged the railways. When the Germans retreated north, they did their best to destroy the railway so the Allies couldn't use it. On the back of the locomotive was a huge hook that was lowered into the ground, when the engine started to slowly move every wooden tie was broken in the middle. We heard this a couple of times and couldn't figure what was going on. I walked the railway one morning just near dawn. I met an Italian and he explained to me the Germans wanted to make it useless to us.

I left one morning and headed for the supply depot, needing some ammunition. I walked on one of the roads that were in bad shape. Heavy rain and tanks had made it near impossible to walk on.

On arriving at the supply depot, only the Sargeant in charge was there, he said my help was out in the bomb crater. I went out and found four men in a huge crate, one of them knew me. He said Foster you are out of your head travelling around alone with those big guns firing occasionally. I got some ammunition, sardines, and hard tack. The Sargeant said help yourself, and come again.

My problem was sometimes with not being with the Regiment was when rations would arrive before daybreak.

Blood Donor Clinic

By: Eric MacKenzie,
Community Recreation
Coordinator

Canadian Blood Services held another successful two day Blood Donor clinic at the 14 Wing Community Centre on Tuesday November 17th and Wednesday November 18th. Over 230 donors came to support this worthy cause and as a result 197 donations were collected, which can be used to save almost 600 lives! Canadian Blood Services will be returning for another two day clinic at the 14 Wing Community Centre on February 9th & 10th 2010.

Canadian Blood Services is holding two day clinics as a result of the support from our local communities. Let's continue to respond and take advantage of this opportunity by filling up two full days with appointments. If we can double our one day attendance, over both days, Canadian Blood Services may be able to collect enough donations to save over a thousand lives!

If you are interested in booking an appointment to give blood or to volunteer at this next two day clinic, please call 1-888-236-6283.

The 14 Wing Community Centre would like to thank Tim Hortons and McDonalds for their continued sponsorship towards this event.

YOU AUTO KNOW

Get a Better Grip on the Road this Winter

Winter weather presents additional driving challenges but that does not mean you have to be housebound this winter says Steve Boutilier, Service Manager for Canadian Tire, Greenwood. Use extra care on slippery roads, allow additional time, and equip your car with tires especially designed for winter conditions.

Steve explains, that even the best all-season tire is a compromise. Although they generally handle rain and light snow, they do not perform well in severe winter conditions. With snowy and icy conditions, you should consider winter tires for that extra margin of safety.

Two identical vehicles, one with all-season tires and one with purpose built snow tires will have very different performance capabilities. Studies show that the special winter tires can increase traction by 50% or more, comments Steve.

Winter Tire Design

Winter tires are made of softer components that all-season tires and the rubber are especially formulated to remain pliable in extremely cold temperatures. This pliability, along with different tread designs, gives winter tires better traction and road-gripping abilities.

Nordic Wintertrac has an aggressive tread design for exceptional traction and control in snow and slushy conditions. Molded for studs (where permissible by law) to provide increased traction. As an added bonus, the improved traction that winter tires provide will cut down on your fuel consumption.

Look for the Snowflake

When shopping for winter tires, be sure to look for one with a symbol of a mountain and a snowflake – this means the tire has met the severe snow service requirements of the Rubber Association of Canada.

This symbol of a mountain and a snowflake means a tire has met the severe snow service requirements of the Rubber Association of Canada.

Transport Canada recommends that you install four identical snow tires on your vehicle, to help maintain stability and control. Also, have your tires installed by your tire dealer to make sure that they are properly mounted.

Steve would like to remind drivers to remember to check your tire inflation at least monthly throughout the year. All tires gradually lose pressure and temperature changes can add to under inflation.

This Is A Thank You to Everyone Who Assisted in Making the 2009 Muscular Dystrophy Boot Drive a Success

14 Wing Greenwood Fire Dept is pleased to announce that this year Firefighters collectively raised $2165.25 during our annual "Boot Drive" campaign.

We would like to thank all 14 Wing Greenwood area residents, and employees for their generosity and support.

History of the Annual Boot Drive

Canadian Fire Fighters have played an integral role for Muscular Dystrophy Canada since 1954, when a group of parents with children who were affected by Muscular Dystrophy approached a Fire Department and requested assistance in raising funds. With the Fire Fighters leading the way, Muscular Dystrophy Canada conducted the first residential canvass in Toronto, and raised more than 200,000 for research. The international Association of fire fighters (IAFF) pledge their continuing support "until a cure is found."

Since that time, Muscular Dystrophy Canada has become a National Organization supported by more than 600 Fire Departments and Associations across Canada, who currently raises over 2.8 million dollars annually-for a total of 64.1 million since 1954.

The 14 Wing Fire Chief CWO K.B. Ochitwa proudly presents a generous cheque to Shelley McWilliams local Muscular Dystrophy representative, in the amount of $2165.25.

BBB Advice on Using Layaway for Holiday Purchases

As more families struggle in the tough economy, retailers are trying to make paying for holiday gifts more flexible by offering layaway options. With layaway experiencing a comeback, your Better Business Bureau offers the following guidance on how to use this old fashioned payment plan in lieu of credit cards.

"It is a sign of our rough economic times that consumers are turning to layaway to purchase the basics, rather than just luxury items," said Don MacKinnon, President and CEO. "For many families this holiday season, it's not just gifts and decorations that will be purchased on layaway, but also the basic items needed to get by in everyday life."

Buying items on layaway is different from putting them on a credit card because the buyer isn't charged interest on the purchase and can't take the item home until it is paid off. When purchasing items on layaway, the buyer must typically make a down payment of 10 to 20 percent and pay any service or plan fees for the store to hold the item for them. The customer then has typically 30 to 90 days to make periodic payments to pay off the balance. Once it is paid off, the customer can take the items home.

As a complement to in-store layaway, some stores provide online layaway services for purchasing items through the retailer's Web site. Additionally, third-party businesses have sprung up for the purpose of setting up layaway plans online between customers and retailers that don't already have a layaway program. Customers make periodic payments to the third-party layaway service provider. Once the item is fully paid for, the business then buys the item from the retailer and ships it to the customer.

When buying items on layaway, BBB advises consumers to get everything in writing and offers the following checklist of questions to ask:

- How much time do I have to pay off the item?
- When are the payments due?
- How much do I have to put down?
- Are there any storage or service plan fees?
- What happens if I miss a payment? Are there penalties? Does the item return to inventory?
- Can I get a refund or store credit if I no longer want the item after making a few payments?
- What happens if the item goes on sale after I've put it on layaway?
- Does the retailer or third-party layaway service have a good BBB rating?

Remembrance Day 2009

By: Captain Scott Spurr

Remembrance Day has once again come and gone and as with every year, personnel from 14 Wing Greenwood participated in various ceremonies up and down the Annapolis Valley. This year was little bit different and special as 2009 marked the 100th Anniversary of Flight in Canada. The Centennial produced many celebrations and events across Canada (and also at the Wing) to commemorate this event, but also caused reflection for the men and women who dared to dream and soar into the heavens and the many who gave their lives in that pursuit.

On Monday, November 9, 2009, Wing personnel also had the pleasure of participating in the annual West Kings High School Community Remembrance Day Ceremony. Every year, the students of the school come together to create a very moving tribute to the past and present members of the Canadian Forces and the ceremony gets bigger and better every year!

The West Kings tribute had performances by the Wing's own Band and Pipes and Drums as well as a song from local recording artist Rachel MacLean. The students themselves put together some dance routines as well as songs to honour the men and women who gave their lives in previous conflicts. Sergeant Lalena Stary gave a speech that dealt with her recent tour in Kandahar, Afghanistan which was very moving and appreciated by all in attendance.

The Kingston Legion played host once again to the largest Remembrance Day Ceremony that Wing personnel participated in this year. Fortunately, the weather cooperated for the many people and organizations who laid the several wreaths at the monument recognizing the fallen military members who paid the ultimate sacrifice.

John McCrae, the author of the poem "In Flanders Fields" is recited every Remembrance Day. This poem is a reminder to not only Canadians, but to the current and future populations of the planet to remember the horrors of war so as not to repeat them. Lest we forget!

A Cinderella Story

A few weeks ago, Cinderella's picture and story was posted on Facebook. The story told of a cat in Sydney, Cape Breton that followed a young university student home. No one wanted her, and the local SPCA offered to euthanize her as a solution because they were full.

I saw that no one was responding to the ad. I thought about it and thought about it, and eventually I couldn't stand it and responded to the posting by saying H.A.R.T. would take her in if someone could transport her. Arrangements were made to take her as far as Karen McGratton's (another animal rescuer) in Halifax. From there, Karen brought her to me at one of my fundraiser's. Well, so the story begins.

Cinderella arrived quite thin. Since we were completely out of room she had to stay in our bathroom. A few days after her arrival she had her first vet appointment with Dr. Jody Rice (HART's vet) in Port Royal. Dr. Rice examined Cinderella, tested her for Feline Leukemia and Feline AIDS (which she tested negative for both), gave Cinderella her first set of vaccinations and treated her for parasites. We took her home and settled her back down into the bathroom where she had a nice cozy bed.

A couple of days later we noticed that she wasn't feeling herself and had stopped eating. We took Cinderella back to Dr. Rice where it was discovered she had a fever of 106.5. She was also drooling and had a hard time standing up. It was decided that it was best for Cinderella to stay with Dr. Rice for further examination and tests. Dr. Rice called me the next day with all kinds of news of how terrible Cinderella's fate was. It didn't look good at all. She had so many things wrong with her. After discussing Cinderella's condition with Dr. Rice, we decided that she was worth a shot! She had come so far and was not a young girl! (Approximately 12 years old).

While Cinderella was being examined and tests were being done on her, and she was given various medications, she still would not eat. Dr. Rice put a feeding tube into her throat. Cinderella's condition was very puzzling to Dr. Rice, however, everything she did for her was the right thing. She was put on two different types of medications. Since Dr. Rice was going out of the country on vacation I decided to take Cinderella to Inge Sadler (Pick of The Litter Society, Bedford) just to be safe in case something happened to her while Dr. Rice was gone.

Inge Sadler works at Vetcetera Animal Hospital

in Bedford and she also has a lot of experience with cats. We felt it was best to have Inge look after Cinderella with the tube in her throat while Dr. Rice was away. Cinderella did very well at Inge's and in no time flat didn't even need the tube in her throat!

While Cinderella was being looked after at Inge's, we had her story on Facebook. An incredible woman named Nancy Bain (of Bridgewater) showed great interest in Cinderella and decided that she and her family wanted to adopt her. We could not believe Cinderella's luck! Last Sunday Cinderella was picked up by Nancy Bain and her family and Cinderella is now in her forever home, safe and sound.

We hope that Cinderella continues to recuperate and that she doesn't have any setbacks. We are asking the public to donate to Cinderella's vet bill. You can make donations directly to Port Royal Animal Hospital 532-PETS. This was one of the happiest endings we at H.A.R.T. have seen. One of the ways you can help H.A.R.T. continue this wonderful kind of rescue work is to attend our many fundraisers. Our next one is November 28, Saturday; it's our annual "Italian Feast"! It will be held at the Fire Hall in Annapolis Royal, 3:00 - 7:00 p.m. Please check our website for further details: www.valleyhart.com or call us at 341-HART for tickets or information. We have a wonderful menu to choose from and a cash bar too.

HOROSCOPES

November 22 to November 28

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20
Keep your lips closed, Aries, even if you need to duct tape them shut. Anything you say this week will be taken the wrong way and you don't need any enemies at this time.

There's more than meets the eye to a situation that arises on Tuesday, Taurus. You will have to read between the lines if you want to gauge the outcome.

Gemini, with your financial situations in order, it may seem like the right time to do a little extra spending. However, the best thing you can do right now is to keep your wallet shut.

Cancer, you're antsy this week and your restlessness is causing you to take shortcuts when you shouldn't. Focus your attention on what you need to get done.

This week you are propelled through your daily tasks and have lots of extra time for recreational activities, Capricorn. How will you put the time to good use?
