Crash Survivor Visits 413 Rescue and Transport (T&R) Squadron

Daniel Weiher was a passenger travelling home to Digby on a friend's 1968 Piper Cherokee 140 from Ottawa on January 6, 2009. After refuelling in Quebec City, the aircraft departed for Saint John, New Brunswick around five a.m., but thirty minutes later it had disappeared off the radar.

Daniel recalls the weather in Quebec City was good with clear skies, but it quickly deteriorated to white out conditions. Navigation Canada reported that the aircraft had contacted air controllers with orientation problems, but due to the breaking up of communications, the tower was unable to remain in contact. Authorities were notified of a possible plane crash, which launched an operation to locate the distress beacon. The Joint Rescue Co-ordination Centre at CFB Trenton, Ontario, was initially contacted by the Ontario Provincial Police in Smiths Falls after the detachment received a 911 call from a cell phone, thus determining that the plane had crashed near Buckland, Quebec.

Three Canadian Forces helicopters, a Coast Guard helicopter and a Hercules aircraft were sent to the area to search for the aircraft. Weather continued to pose a challenge until 9:15 a.m., when a Griffon helicopter from CFB Bagotville, Quebec spotted the aircraft and inserted a Search and Rescue Technician (SAR Tech) to the scene. Two more SAR Techs parachuted to the site shortly after from an on scene C-130 Hercules aircraft. At 10:30 am, Rescue 911, a Cormorant helicopter from Greenwood recovered the two survivors, and transported them to a Coast Guard station helipad in downtown Quebec to awaiting ambulances.

Daniel vaguely remembers the impact of hitting a tree after being thrown from the aircraft. He recalls coming to in the snow and hearing screams from the wreckage. Realizing it was one of the other passengers, he started to move towards the plane to assist, but felt and heard a snap as his leg broke beneath him. Determined to help the other passenger, Daniel held his leg and still managed to get to the plane and help the passenger that was trapped in the inverted aircraft. It was then, that the two called 911 on the cell phone and were able to pass enough information and keep a signal long enough to be tracked before the battery died. For the next few hours in the storm, he could hear the sounds of the helicopters and aircraft flying above. Weather prevented any visual contact, but he remained positive that they would be rescued.

Daniel sustained numerous injuries from the crash and for the past seventeen months has been on a continuous road to recovery.

He suffered from a broken leg and shoulder, extensive damage to his face, and severe frost bite to his fingers and toes. He had many surgeries to help in his recovery with more to follow. His feet are very sensitive making it difficult to walk on rocky roads and he finds the weather elements affect him more than before the accident.

Even though he struggled though the pain of recovery, Daniel was determined to find and thank his "rescuers". He had spent time searching the internet for information on the accident, but there always seemed to be conflicting reports or lack of information. Daniel then received the "413 (T&R) Sqn" coin, a commemorative coin passed on from a member of the squadron to a person being rescued. Daniel sent a letter to the Commanding Officer of the squadron telling his story and requesting to thank the crew, in person. This, being a rare request for the members of 413 (T&R) Sqn, was immediately approved and he was invited to join the members for their annual Honours and Awards ceremony. Daniel, accompanied by his girlfriend Emily Smith, spent the day with the members of the Sqn. They toured the hangar, SAR Tech shop and both Cormorant and Hercules aircrafts before attending the ceremony as guests of honour.

RMC Saint-Jean to Host International Meeting

Military personnel and academics from all over the world will meet in Saint-Jean-sur-Richelieu.

The Royal Military College Saint-Jean will host the International Meeting on Military Academies, Colleges and Schools from November 3 to 5, 2010. Military personnel, professors and academics from around the world will meet to explore topics of interest regarding the academic and professional training of future military officers.

Topics like the raison d'être of military academies—their mission, their history—as well as the teachings they offer—what to teach, how to teach?—

will be discussed. Additionally, the question of culture will be explored. For example, what kind of military culture is passed on? How do military and civilian cultures co-exist? If you are interested in submitting a proposal as a presenter, or would simply like to attend the event as a participant, please go to <http://www.cmrsj-rmcsj.forces.gc.ca/col-col/ria-ima/index-eng.asp> for additional information.

Une rencontre internationale au CMR Saint-Jean

Des militaires et des universitaires du monde entier à Saint-Jean-sur-Richelieu.

Le Collège militaire royal de Saint-Jean accueillera la Rencontre internationale sur les académies, collèges et écoles militaires, du 3 au 5 novembre prochains. Des militaires, des professeurs et des chercheurs universitaires de partout dans le monde s'y réuniront pour se pencher sur des enjeux importants touchant ces institutions qui forment de futurs officiers aux plans intellectuel et professionnel.

Des aspects tels les raisons d'être des académies militaires – leur mission, leur histoire – ainsi que les enseignements qu'on y dispense – quoi enseigner, comment enseigner? – seront abordés. On s'intéressera également à des questions de culture : quelle culture militaire y transmet-on? Comment la culture militaire et la culture « civile » y cohabitent-elles?

Que vous vouliez soumettre une proposition de communication ou simplement assister à l'événement, des informations détaillées ainsi que le formulaire d'inscription sont disponibles à l'adresse suivante : <http://www.cmrsj-rmcsj.forces.gc.ca/col-col/ria-ima/index-fra.asp>.

Throughout the day, Daniel remained open about the accident as he shared his memories from the crash and stories of his recovery to the Sqn. Captain Andrew Mercer was the Aircraft Commander on scene, and was able to give Daniel and Emily an extensive tour of the Cormorant as well as describe in detail more information of the rescue. Daniel remembers coming in the door of the helicopter before passing out, and then coming to again as he was being loaded in the ambulance. The First Officer of the crew was the Sqn's Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Colonel (LCol) Thibault, who is currently posted in Ottawa. Master Corporal (MCpl) Aresenault, currently posted to Goose Bay, was the Flight Engineer. Daniel spent the afternoon with Corporal (Cpl) Mike Neilson, the SAR Tech that cared for him during his transport to Quebec City, as well as Sergeant (Sgt) JP Benoit, the team Lead SAR Tech who had cared for the other survivor. In an emotional meeting, both SAR Techs were honoured to received Daniel's thanks and gratitude. The three were able to reminisce about the events that occurred that day, with Cpl Neilson and Sgt Benoit providing Daniel with the details of his rescue and condition, and he explained the extent of his injuries, his recovery and future procedures.

Throughout this traumatic ordeal, Daniel has maintained a positive attitude, which he knows will play a monumental role in the success of his recovery. He jokes that he would like to give skydiving a try in the future, saying that if he can survive without a parachute, he should have no problems landing with one. As Daniel continues his journey ahead with the love and support of his family and friends, we at 413 (T&R) Sqn would like to wish Daniel all the best for a speedy recovery and many future successes, as well as a very special thank you to both Daniel and Emily for honouring us with their presence.

Homecoming & Reunion

Submitted by Jennifer Hill BSW, SWC, Prevention Support and Intervention Services Social Worker 765-1494 ex 1811

It was Dorothy in the Wizard of Oz who spoke wise words when she said "there is no place like home".

This is it; the countdown is almost over - less than a handful of sleeps until your deployed loved one returns.

Homecoming can be a time where many emotions are circling as you continue to wait until that plane arrives. You may feel anxious, excited, or uncertain; it is normal to feel opposing emotions and know that there are many other people who are going through a similar experience.

There are several things to expect when your partner/loved one returns;

- You have changed and have become more independent. This change can be perceived as a negative or positive.
- They may feel somewhat hurt that you have managed so well without them. You may need to offer reassurance that they have been missed and have not been replaced.

- They may be disengaged from household expectations and family routine. Be patient and take gradual steps toward reintegration.

- They may appear more quiet and withdrawn as they adjust to home life again. Do not be alarmed, this is normal.

Communication is an important key when reuniting and reintegrating. These tips could also be considered for family and friends of single members. Some simple tips you could try include:

- Think before you speak. This is something our parents taught us and is important to consider during the reintegration time. Choose your words wisely and give thought to what you want to say before saying it.
- Be patient with your loved one and do not criticize what the other has to say. Keep an open mind and speak respectfully to one another.

- Take a moment and discuss your wants and needs; you may be surprised that you each have very different ideas. This could be a time to explore a compromise.
- Speak clearly and make sure that the other person understands your message.
- Listen actively and restate what the other person has said to ensure you clearly understand them.
- Go slow, do not expect change to happen over night - take things slow and let them happen naturally.
- Connect with others who have experienced deployment; whether through peers, a counsellor, padre, or someone else you trust.

Your local GMFRC is a great resource to connect families to support programs and services specific to the unique military lifestyle. To explore our programs and gain insight into the services offered through the Prevention Support and Intervention Program please contact me, Jennifer Hill BSW, SWC.

Military Families Serve our Country with Distinction

Submitted by: Michelle Thibodeau Wagner, Coordinator of Special Events and Promotions, Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre 765-1491 local 1421 michelle.thibodeau-wagner@forces.gc.ca

According to Retired General Rick Hillier "Military life places significant demands on our loved ones. They did not volunteer for service-but serve they do, and with great distinction."

Often times it is forgotten that even though military families can't be identified by the Canadian Combat patterned uniform, they do indeed serve this country. Military families serve this country by supporting their soldier and the family at home during deployments, missions and taskings. They support their soldier through postings, courses and the general daily demand of being a Canadian Forces Soldier. By taking care of everything on the home front, military families allow the soldier to carry out their mission without worry, keeping the task at hand as priority. Focused soldiers equal successful operations.

It's not always easy to be a military family. It certainly comes with both its rewards and its trials. Not having your spouse at home for a week, 2 months, 6 months, 10 months or more can seem an eternity. Kudos to military families for holding it all together during holidays, birthdays, mowing and snow blowing seasons.

Military Murphy's Law is, when a soldier is away... it will happen, so Kudos to military families for learning how to fix a leaky pipe with duct tape and managing the late night trips to outpatients with a sick child. Military Families are the Strength Behind the Uniform.

As Canada Day approaches,

now is a wonderful time to express our support for our troops and our military families. Let's all display a yellow ribbon and wear red on Friday. Both are simple things to do but important things to do. It's something we can all do easily but what a statement we can make together as a community!

Giving All Kids A Sporting Chance...

By Jill Jackson,
Community Recreation Director

Canadian Tire continues to team up with several local Kings County and Hants County Recreation partners to continue to implement "Jump Start", a financial assistance program for kids. The Jump Start program gives all kids a chance to participate in organized Sport and Recreation programs that they would otherwise not have the opportunities due to financial restraints. Recipients of these grants must be between the ages of 4-18 years and the grant will not exceed a maximum of $300 per application. Funding will be for ongoing sport and recreational activities or programs.

To obtain an application in Kingston or Greenwood, drop by the Greenwood Canadian Tire store and see Debbie Parks or Jill Jackson at the 14 Wing Community Centre.

The application is an easy and simple form that can be filled out and sent or dropped off to one of the partners listed on the application. Applications are accepted three times a year and the deadline for applications is the 30 Jun 2010. Brochures and applications can also be picked up at the 14 Wing Community Centre. For more information on this great program that gives kids a chance contact Jill at 765-1494 ext 5331. We believe all kids should have the chance to run, skate, play and grow, give kids a chance!

AEES Students Support Heart & Stroke

During the week of May 31 to June 4, students at Annapolis East Elementary School in Middleton showed their support for the Heart & Stroke Foundation in a couple of ways. The children brought in donations to go towards research funding, and in return received a paper heart to put their name or a loved one's name on to be displayed on the Heart Wall in the gym. Also, to demonstrate ways to keep their own hearts healthy, they participated in Hopps and Jump Rope for Heart activities during their gym classes during the week. Shown are some of the students from Ms. Rodda's 5R class being active in front of the Heart Wall.

Canada's CC-130J Hercules prepares for takeoff from Lockheed Martin's manufacturing plant in Marietta, Georgia.

Super Hercules: Now in Canada

By Joanna Calder

June 8, 2010 - "It's a bird! It's a plane! Yes! It's Super Hercules!"

Our first CC-130J Hercules – the "Super Hercules" – arrived home at 8 Wing Trenton, Ont., on Friday, June 4.

"This truly is an historic day for 8 Wing, for the Air Force, for the Canadian Forces and, one could say, for the country," said Assistant Chief of the Air Staff, Major-General Tom Lawson, during the arrival ceremony at 8 Wing.

The day started bright and early at Lockheed Martin's manufacturing plant in Marietta, Georgia. Minister MacKay and Rona Ambrose, Minister of Public Works and Government Services Canada, took possession of Hercules tail #130601 by accepting a symbolic key from Jim Grant, Lockheed Martin's vice-president of business development for air mobility.

By 11:30 a.m., the new aircraft was circling over Trenton, to the cheers and applause of the crowd gathered on the tarmac below. After landing, it taxied to a stop with a clearly elated Peter MacKay, Minister of National Defence, waving from the open hatch on the top of the aircraft.

But before the arrival ceremony began there was one piece of official business to take care of. The aircraft, crew, passengers and cargo had to clear Customs.

"I just told Customs I had $25 million to declare," joked Minister MacKay when he took the podium.

"We are very proud of the missions that Canadian Forces conduct, around the world and here at home," he went on to say. "And in order to do that important job we have to equip them properly. That is exactly what the Government of Canada is doing with the Canada First Defence Strategy."

"The result of the Hercules program is 454 jobs in Canada [and] $2.3 billion in industrial regional benefits. So that means jobs for Canadians and support for Canadian businesses," Minister Ambrose told the crowd.

Minister MacKay described the "long and distinguished history of Canadian airlift".

"This proud tradition emerged during the crucible of the Second World War. It carried on through the darkest days of the Korean War [and] then into the 1960s. And ladies and gentlemen, think about how far we've come since that time."

"[Since the first Canadian Hercules was delivered nearly 50 years ago, it has] been almost everywhere and done almost everything the Canadian Forces asked of them."

"The CC-130s and their crews carry the lifeblood of operations when they fly. They move everything from socks to spare parts, from mail to machine guns. And they've done so with dependability and with distinction."

MGen Lawson continued Minister MacKay's praise for Canadian airlift capabilities. "Tactical airlift is the lifeline of the CF, and the Hercules is often going to be among the first – if not the first – aircraft on the ground in any operation."

Both Ministers and MGen Lawson thanked Lockheed Martin, Canadian and American governmental departments, the Canadian project team and the U.S. Air Force for helping bring the aircraft project in early and under budget. "Congratulations!" said Minister Ambrose.

Major Mark Goulden, who co-piloted the new Herc on its flight to Trenton, has logged 4,500 hours on older model Hercules.

"The best thing about the new Herc is the increase in power and the new avionics," he told the Trentonian newspaper. "The flight was exciting and it's a proud day for 436 Squadron and 8 Wing. The flypast was a real thrill."

MGen Lawson had words of praise for 8 Wing personnel. "I congratulate all members of 8 Wing who have worked tirelessly to help integrate this new capability into wing and squadron operations, and doing that while you're holding down the myriad responsibilities that you do. I thank you for it."

"The Air Force is better positioned now than at any other time in recent memory to protect Canadian interests here at home and around the world."

"Welcome to the Hercules J model," he concluded.

Support the New Kingston Legion Quilt Fund

The Legion has had a beautiful quilt of a tree made to help us raise funds for a new Legion. The tree was chosen because it's used to build so many of the day to day things we have come to depend on and the bricks are the foundation that ensure stability and longevity. Anyone can purchase a cloth leaf or brick which will have your name or name of a love one or company place on it and sewn on to the quilt which will be hung proudly in the Legion for all to see. The cloth leaves can be purchased at the Legion for $10.00 and the bricks for $25.00. Please except our sincere gratitude for your support in our endeavour to offer our veterans, community and members better service.

More details will follow in the coming weeks. Anyone wanting more information can call the Kingston Legion Office at 765-4920.

The apple blossoms have come and gone and so has the 78th Apple Blossom Festival. The Kingston Apple Blossom Committee would like to take this time to recognize those who made this year's Festival what it was.

Congratulations are extended to the 78th Apple Blossom Royal Party: Emily Rafuse, Princess Windsor and Queen Annapolisa, Josie Zakhour, Princess Digby and First Lady in Waiting to our own Princess Kingston, Olivia Switzer, Second Lady in Waiting: It has not been since 1994, when Princess Kingston Marlee Gertride was crowned Queen Annapolisa, that Kingston has stood among the Royal Party. Well done Olivia!

Apple Blossom weekend is a significant event in the lives of those young ladies chosen to represent their communities as Princess but also for those younger children who are chosen to attend their princess: the child attendant. Kyra Jarvis, daughter of Bruce and Jacqueline Jarvis, was more than excited to attend Coronation Ceremonies and the Grande Street Parade with Princess Olivia. Additionally, Kyra was one of the attendants chosen to present a traditional gift to the new Queen Annapolisa~ a special privilege and honour for Kyra.

The Jarvis family was particularly busy on Saturday during the Grande Street Parade, as Captain Bruce Jarvis was the pilot of the Aurora that conducted the fly past marking the beginning of the Grande Street Parade.

The Kingston Apple Blossom Committee would like to acknowledge and thank those organizations, businesses and persons who directly supported Princess Kingston in the 78th Apple Blossom Festival. Thank-you to each and every one for all you have done, no contribution has gone unnoticed.

The 19th Hole

What a change in course conditions ...on Monday June 7th we went out to play the back nine and I don't remember seeing that much water on the course ...it was like the spring floods had hit us. I am sure that by the time this article goes to print it will have changed, but it sure was wet out there. When we said we needed rain, the course was getting dry, I am not sure we meant that much rain in such a short period of time. It is ...what it is!

I don't think we had any winners at the Eden Classic Ladies tournament... other than Sandy Adams and Connie Armstrong won the 50/50 ...nice win.

There were no winners from Greenwood in the NS Four Ball... they ended up with only being a one day tournament.

Hopefully I will have better news next issue. There are several teams going to the Strawberry Classic at Paragon and we have quite a few people playing the Legion Tournament.

The Schedule for next week looks like this:

Tuesday June 15th- 10:00 ten tee times - Wo & Sgts Mess;
- Men's Night - 3-Man Scramble sign up at 2:30 for a 3:00 Tee off. Meal to follow the golf.

Wednesday- June 16th- 413 Squadron. 9:00 Shot Gun start;
- Ladies Night

Thursday June 17th - Ladies Morning 9:00; Mid a.m. Practise Rounds

Friday, Saturday and Sunday: Nova Scotia Mid- Amateur; Friday Night 2-Ball

Until next issue, Hit 'em Long and Straight, Keep up the Pace of Play and don't forget to replace your divots and repair the ball marks on the greens.

Fifteen ladies were out to play a three person Texas Scramble on the evening of Wednesday 9 Jun 10. Scores ranged from plus 3 to plus 10 and the winners were the teams of Sandra Cathcart, Erma Raines and Sandy Adams in first place and Margie Welin, Joan Dixon and Sharyn Trimm in second place. The 50/50 winner was Sharyn Trimm.

Red Cross Says More Emphasis Needed On Water Safety

National Water Safety Week

HALIFAX - With at least 15 drownings and other water-related deaths in Atlantic Canada in the first five months of 2010, the Canadian Red Cross says Water Safety week is an opportunity for parents, caregivers and anyone involved in activity on or near water to redouble safety efforts, especially supervising children around water.

Since the vast majority of drowning victims in Canada, including all of those in the Atlantic provinces so far this year have been males not wearing personal flotation devices or PFDs, the Red Cross says it may be more effective to urge women to pressure the men and boys in their lives to take water safety more seriously.

Red Cross research shows that children ages 1 to 4 and males ages 15 to 44 are at the greatest risk of drowning, and that backyard pools are especially dangerous for small children who are also the most vulnerable group for near drowning. PFDs are not worn by the vast majority of drowning victims.

"It takes only minutes for a child to disappear from sight or a noseful of water for a baby to drown, so whether it's a pool, bathtub or the beach, watch children around water and stay within reach," said Wayne Young, Red Cross director of injury prevention in Atlantic Canada.

Four-sided fencing and self-closing, self-latching gates are a must for backyard pool safety, according to the Red Cross, which also urges parents or caregivers to always empty portable toddler pools whenever they're not being used or are not supervised.

Each year, more than 175,000 children worldwide drown while up to three million experience a near-drowning, often resulting in permanent brain damage. Atlantic Canada sees an average of 20-30 drowning deaths per year so with at least 15 before the peak summer swimming and boating season has even begun, Young said it's cause for even greater concern and vigilance.

Among Canadian Red Cross programs to encourage water safety is an online contest at www.redcross.ca/swim offering safety tips and chances to win Nexcare prize packages. In Atlantic Canada, it also offers free short-term loans of personal flotation devices (PFDs) along with swimming and water safety lessons tailored to groups from pre-schoolers to adults including those who supervise children in or near water.

"Swimming skills alone aren't always enough to save a life," said Young. "Learning more broadly about water safety is key to preventing an emergency in or on the water."

For individual or groups who don't invest in PFDs or self-inflating lifejackets for occasional outings on or near water, Canadian Red Cross offices in Bridgewater, Dartmouth, Kentville, Sydney, Truro and Yarmouth can provide free short-term loans of PFDs.

"We would rather lend someone a PFD and have our staff ensure a proper fit than to hear of yet another drowning because someone didn't have the time or resources to buy a sufficient number of PFDs or perhaps even worse, loses a child whose PFD failed because it was the wrong size or not correctly worn."

HOROSCOPES

June 13 - June 19

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20

Aries, you have never needed any help getting noticed and nothing is different about this week either. You will be the life of the party and others will flock to you.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21

It's time to let loose a little, Taurus. Though it may not seem like you have the permission to do so, go out and have fun and everything will be OK. Work certainly will wait.

GEMINI - May 22/Jun 21

Gemini, things might be a struggle this week because you are so tired. You have had a lot of responsibilities and the tasks will continue through this week, too.

CANCER - Jun 22/Jul 22

Delegation is your best friend this week, Cancer. With so much on your plate you will have to farm out some work to others or you will face a meltdown.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

Virgo, a battle of wills could put you in a peculiar spot on Tuesday. In your quest to have everything orderly, you actually cause a lot of confusion in the process.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

Libra, big changes on the horizon excite you about things to come. Keep your head about you and work through each step a little at a time.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

Scorpio, you like to be ahead of the game and this week you will find you're planning for something that is still months ahead in the future. It's alright to be prepared.

Shift your thought processes from recreation to business, Sagittarius. An opportunity presents itself and you need to have your business sense in full force to work through the details.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

Capricorn, you may need to rethink your priorities this week. A scenario that you had cast aside actually may be the way to go in the future. Give it a little more thought.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

Frustration and boredom are usually linked, Aquarius. You need to learn how to enjoy the things you have instead of looking toward other things that you can acquire.

Interested in forming a 14 Wing Skate Park Club?

The 14 Wing Community Centre held a successful skate park focus group, on Fri May 21st, where roughly twenty individuals attended. During this meeting, it was decided to start a new Greenwood Skate Park Club, similar to the former Greenwood Skate Union.

This Club would be opened to all ages, and all park users (skateboards and BMX). The first order of business will be to determine the benefits of becoming a member of the Club (discounted entrance fees to competitions, portion of annual membership dues spent on upgrades to the park, etc) and decide how to spend the allocated grant funding that we have received to provide upgrades to the park.

Forming this Club will improve our chances to be approved for grants and the success of our fundraising initiatives, since we will have a group of committed members who are dedicated to helping improve our park.

If you are interested in being part of this Club then please attend our first meeting set for Wednesday June 23rd from 3:30 - 4:30p.m. inside the 14 Wing Community Centre Conference Room. This is your opportunity to voice your opinions and recommend the changes that you would like to see.

This Club, in partnership with Limitless Skate and Snow, will allow all users of the park to provide feedback on where our grant funding should be spent, and collectively set a plan in place for what direction we would like to see our park go. Please note that the Community Centre Conference Room is located on the second floor of the Centre.

If you have any questions or ideas, but unable to attend, please call Eric MacKenzie at 765-1494 ext. 5337

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

We will be hiking, lots of running, exploring, games, playground activities and of course making new friends. Our camp is a recreation based camp, therefore the children will not be making crafts – unless we have a rain day. Children must be able to use the washroom independently, and enjoy an active outside atmosphere. Parents do not need to stay for these sessions. A yummy snack will be included each day. Enrolment is limited to 12 children each session.

Healthy-Eating How-To

By: Megan LeMoine; Recreation Youth Worker

To celebrate 'June is Recreation Month' we invited Stacy Hanninen, Register Dietician to the Community Centre to give us a 'hands-on' approach to healthy eating. We had a great time learning how to make, fruit and yogurt parfaits, vegetable wraps and chicken stir-fry! The only rule was that everyone had to try something new, preferably vegetables! Thanks Stacy for showing the teens that healthy eating can be very enjoyable and tasty!
