Two CP-140 Aurora Aircraft Deploy in Support of Operation MOBILE

By Captain Scott Spurr

Two CP-140 Aurora aircraft took off from 14 Wing Greenwood under somewhat cloudy skies on Thursday, March 24, 2011 to participate in Operation MOBILE. The operation is Canada's response to the United Nations Security Council Resolution 1973 which is to enforce a no-fly zone over Libyan territory. The request for the resolution was put forth by the League of Arab States with the support of the United Kingdom, France and Lebanon on March 17, 2011.

The Minister of National Defence, the Honourable Peter MacKay made the announcement at a news conference in Ottawa and stated that "These planes will provide the Canadian Forces and the coalition with continuous presence over a vast theatre of operations. This additional support to the coalition's capabilities will play an important role in achieving the allied objective of disabling the Gadhafi regime from committing crimes against its own people."

The first Aurora took off at 1:00 p.m. and was from 407 Long Range

Patrol Squadron (Sqn) based out of 19 Wing Comox, British Columbia. The second Aurora from 14 Wing's 405 Long Range Patrol Sqn took to the skies at approximately 9:45 p.m. Almost eighty personnel from both Wings also deployed either on the Aurora flights, or on a CC-177 Globemaster III to Italy where the Auroras will be operating from.

The aircraft will also bring a substantial Long Range Patrol capability which will include Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance abilities that will support the coalition forces in the central Mediterranean region as part of the multinational effort off the coast of Libya.

Along with the two Auroras, six CF-188 Hornet fighter jets and the patrol frigate, HMCS CHARLOTTETOWN have been sent to the area. Currently, there are 435 Canadian Forces personnel now deployed on Operation MOBILE in a number of locations which include Trapani, Naples and Sigonella, Italy; Ramstein, Germany; and at sea in the Central Mediterranean.

17th Annual Law Enforcement Curling Bonspiel - Another Success

Submitted by: Major D.A. (Dan) Mombourquette, MP Detachment Commander

Between 4-6 Feb 11, the 14 Wing Greenwood Military Police hosted the 17th Annual Law Enforcement Curling Bonspiel at the Greenwood Curling Club. Twelve teams consisting of serving and retired Military Police, Municipal Police, and Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers from as far away as Canadian Forces Base (CFB) Gagetown, Yarmouth, and Halifax participated in the event.

The first Law Enforcement Bonspiel was held at CFB Cornwallis in 1968. When CFB Cornwallis was closed in the mid 90s, CFB Greenwood carried on the tradition and continued hosting this very enjoyable event, which brings together Law Enforcement personnel from all over Atlantic Canada.

The opening ceremonies took place at 1800 hours, 4 February 11, with Military Police Detachment Commander Major Dan Mombourquette opening the event by throwing the ceremonial first stone. After an event filled weekend the closing ceremonies were held at 1100 hours, 6 February 11 at the "Evidence Room". The "Sure Shots" from Greenwood skipped by Sandra Cathcart took top honours with her win over the Stu Ryder skipped RCMP team from Halifax. The Sportsmanship Trophy was presented to the "RCMP Lunenburg" team led by skip Rob Lewis.

We would like to acknowledge the following sponsors who made the 17th Annual Curling Bonspiel such a success:

Mrs Ilona Bowers, Mama Sofia Pizzeria, Greenwood/Middleton Subway, Greenwood Tim Hortons, New Minas Walmart, Greenwood Shoppers Drug Mart, Tri-County Communications (Telus), Canada Bread, Atlantica Hotel of Halifax, Holiday Inn Dartmouth Waterfront, and Hi-Liner Fishing Gear and Tackle Ltd of Halifax.

14 Wing Greenwood Spring Renovations

By: Sergeant
Pete Nicholson,
14 Wing Photojournalist

14 Wing continues to improve the quality of life for its members. As you can see, the three principal barracks are getting more than just a fresh coat of paint.

Argus, Neptune and Lancaster house have had the brick removed; vapour barrier and foam insulation installed and new siding. This will not only make the occupants more comfortable but it will also aid in the reduction of heating costs for the Wing.

~ APRIL IS AUTISM AWARENESS MONTH ~ World Autism Awareness Day (WAAD) April 2nd, 2011

By: Norm Donovan

The Valley Autism Support Team (VAST) proudly celebrates World Autism Awareness Day (WAAD) alongside countless of other autism organisations - both large and small - across Canada. We work tirelessly every day to provide a voice, promote awareness, and provide support to all individuals living with an ASD across Canada.

As you read this, more than 300,000 Canadians are living with autism, and their family members and support networks probably total a million people.

The incidence of autism has been dramatically increasing during the past decade and now one in a hundred Canadians is affected with this disorder.

The Autism Society of Canada together with support groups such as VAST have focused on one mission: to improve the lives of all affected by autism. This mission has never been more important.

When services are not available, the resulting impact is far-reaching. We advocate for services that allow people to maximize their independence and self-sufficiency and have the necessities of life many of us take for granted.

Consider these facts:

- Early diagnosis of autism followed by effective treatment reduces lifetime care costs by two-thirds.
- Meeting the unique education needs of students with autism helps many become more independent, contributing adults, reducing dependence on public assistance.
- When people with autism do not receive adequate on-the-job support, unemployment and poverty often result.
- Thousands of parents go to sleep each night worrying who will care for their child when they are no longer able.

The Canadian ASD Alliance position paper states that there is an urgent need for a comprehensive National ASD Strategy. Action must be taken to improve our collective understanding of this disorder, share best practices on treatments, raise awareness and respond to the immense challenges faced by Canadian families caring for their children with ASD.

Camp Mirage – The End of an Era

By: Lieutenant-Colonel
(LCol) Tom Dunne

Mar. 22, 2011

The following article is a first-person account of the weeks leading up to the closure of Camp Mirage as told by the last Commanding Officer of the base in Southwest Asia.

On October 5, 2010, I received a call from Colonel Robert Perron, the Canadian Defence Attaché in the United Arab Emirates.

"Tom, you'll never believe the news," he said. "Canada is to be completely out of Camp Mirage within 30 days!"

This type of surprise doesn't come along too often and I had never expected that the end of Rotation (Roto) 10 would come in this manner. The 30-day timeline was tight but due to a period of diplomatic negotiations on the final end date, I was only able to give the camp 25 days notice to move.

I made the official announcement to all of Camp

Mirage Roto 10 personnel on Oct. 11, telling them we had a unique opportunity; that we had the good fortune that our Roto would be entirely different. Ours was an important challenge – we had the responsibility to close Camp Mirage in record time – we had to be out by November 5.

The great news was that Theatre Support Element (TSE) Roto 10 did not have to do it all alone. Help was on its way in the form of a mission closure team (MCT), mounted by Canadian Operational Support Command (CANOSCOM) and led by Lieutenant-Colonel Ghislain Sauvé.

The MCT played a key role in much of the logistics involved in cataloguing, loading and shipping our equipment and they were heavily involved in other areas, from engineering to communications and finance. They also brought along experts in disposal and contracting – two areas that were key to our departure.

The task ahead was clear. Consolidate vital Canadian equipment. Identify what was to be forwarded to Kandahar, what was to be relocated to Germany or Cyprus, and what was to return to Canada. Make preparations to vacate all buildings. Leave the Camp in an acceptable state to hand over to the United Arab Emirates (UAE).

Complicating this was the ongoing requirement to support the mission in Afghanistan until alternate support arrangements could be made. Fortunately, we were well supported in this. Plans had been developed at Canadian Expeditionary Forces Command (CEFCOM) and CANOSCOM to relocate services at a designated time and minimize the impact on Joint Task Force Afghanistan (JTF-A). TSE Roto 10 and the MCT reacted fabulously, achieving success despite ever-changing circumstances.

Since Canada had been in the UAE the longest of all our coalition partners, we were still providing support to them in a variety of ways. We were relied on for everything from fuel trucks to fire trucks and medical clinics to barber shops. Before removing a service, we ensured there was adequate time available for the coalition partners to put alternate arrangements in place.

The Camp Mirage Cenotaph was critical in order to properly respect our fallen. The TSE Camp Chief Warrant Officer, CWO Richard Lefebvre, prepared a solemn and respectful farewell to the cenotaph on Oct. 22. It was then carefully dismantled and loaded into a sea container headed back 8

Wing Trenton, Ont.

During the ceremony, I remarked that, "Nearly every soldier, sailor and airman that has worked in support of this mission has walked this path and laid eyes on this monument. [The monument] will return to glorify them on our native soil." Plans are now being put in place to have this same cenotaph re-erected in a suitable location at 8 Wing.

In the end, 62 sea containers were shipped, 122 vehicles were prepared and shipped and more than 150 aircraft pallets were also prepared and shipped. The final sea container was shipped on Nov. 2.

The personnel challenge was one of the most difficult. Morale is greatly affected by uncertainty and, due to changing circumstances, it took some time before I could tell everyone with certainty where they would end up on Nov. 5. In the end, about 250 military and civilian personnel were either relocated to Kandahar or Cyprus, or returned to Canada.

A CC-150 Polaris conducted the final personnel movements on Nov. 4. However, some members of Roto 10 were delayed longer in theatre. The engineer support flight didn't return to Canada until Jan. 22, 2011, having spent a few unexpected additional months outside the wire in Afghanistan. For their great work in theatre they earned a JTF-A Commander's Commendation.

The final camp closure ceremony took place on Nov. 3. It was a significant event, with a lot of visibility from Canada. Canadians were well supported by all our Allies throughout the closure, and they didn't miss the opportunity to say goodbye to us officially on parade as well. I have a vivid and lasting memory of watching the Canadian flag being lowered for the last time amongst the flags of those with whom we had worked so closely, for so long.

During the ceremony, I cited the positive relations that remained with those with whom we had worked, including the UAE military. I noted, "...this is the final ceremonial act of closure. When we take this flag down, we are closing a chapter on Camp Mirage. However, we part as friends. Aviators, warriors – men and women of arms. But friends."

I am extremely proud of all the work that went into the closure of Camp Mirage. It was a team effort, facilitated by the early work of Roto 10 and completed by dedicated people from both TSE Roto 10 and the MCT, sweating in the desert sun, loading box after box and sea container after sea container. The assistance of the MCT was well appreciated and the help that was provided by our Allies was phenomenal.

But, most of all, it was the hard work and flexibility of TSE Camp Mirage Roto 10 that will always stand out in my mind.

In recognition of the historical significance of what we had accomplished, I signed off Roto 10's final situation report to headquarters with these words: "Ten years of accumulation...rarely before in the history of mankind has so much been moved by so few, in so little time."

Canadian Fighters Conduct First Mission in Libya

Mar. 22, 2011

On Monday, March 21, Task Force Libeccio conducted its first mission.

"This morning four CF-18 fighter aircraft and two CC-150 Polaris strategic air [-to-air] refuellers departed Trapani, Italy and conducted patrols off the northern coast of Libya," said Defence Minister Peter MacKay on Monday. "These jets did not fire upon any targets."

Named for the strong southwesterly wind that blows all year in the Mediterranean, Task Force Libeccio – part of Operation Mobile – is the air detachment participating in the enforcement of the no-fly zone in Libya authorized by Resolution 1973, adopted by the U.N. Security Council on March 17, 2011.

"Following resolution 1973 our government directed that six CF-18 fighter aircraft deploy to Italy along with 140 Canadian Forces personnel to assist our allied effort in enforcing a no-fly zone over Libyan territory," said Minister MacKay.

Under the command of Colonel Alain Pelletier, Task

An armament systems technician from 425 Squadron signals to a CF-18 Hornet at Trapani, Italy prior to take-off for Libya.

Force Libeccio is flying from the NATO forward operating base co-located with Vincenzo Florio Airport in Trapani, Italy. The Task Force includes a "six-pack" of CF-18 Hornets from 425 Tactical Fighter Squadron, 3 Wing Bagotville, Quebec, and a CC-150 Polaris air-to-air refuelling detachment from 437 Transport Squadron at 8 Wing Trenton, Ontario, as well as aircrew, ground technicians and logisticians from 3 Wing, 8 Wing and other locations across Canada.

"This morning's mission involved the use of our CF-18s in a defensive counter-air role," said Major-General Tom Lawson, Assistant Chief of the Air Staff.

"Their purpose was to achieve air superiority in support of the mission. This means not only protecting coalition aircraft but also protecting coalition ships engaged in enforcing the embargo. Also, our fighters bring a significant capability to deliver air-to-surface weaponry as required to support the mission.

A CF-18 Hornet from 425 Squadron takes off from Trapani, Italy on March 21 for the first Canadian Air Force mission into Libya.

"Our crews are highly trained in the use of precision-guided munitions. However, having said that, the risk in deploying air-to-ground munitions in such a fluid environment is real. Our aircrews understand this and they're well aware of the need to positively identify potential targets.... To be clear we will aim for no collateral damage.

"Having completed our first mission, Canada's Air Force is clearly an engaged and valued part of the coalition," he said.

A CC-150 Polaris from 437 Squadron prepares to leave from Trapani, Italy on March 21. The Airbus is able to refuel CF-18s in flight.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING FEATURE – NOVA SCOTIA DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

Keep coyotes wild and out of your area

Safety tips for outdoor recreation and around the home

Coyotes are permanent residents in our province. Seeing or hearing coyotes from time to time anywhere in Nova Scotia is not unusual. They have become an important part of the ecosystem as a top-line predator. Nocturnal by nature, coyotes tend to be most active and vocal in the evening and throughout the night. Occasionally they are vocal during the day.

Coyotes are normally shy and fearful of people. When this behaviour changes and they lose that fear, there is cause for concern. A coyote's loss of fear of people, called habituation, is nearly always caused by direct or indirect feeding by people or by the frequent presence of non-threatening humans in coyote habitat.

You can take steps to reduce the attractiveness of your property to coyotes and reduce the likelihood of a coyote encounter. Work with your neighbours to follow these steps.

Trim trees and ground-level shrubs to reduce hiding places for coyotes and for the animals they prey upon. Store bird feeders indoors at night. Clean up spilled birdseed to avoid attracting rodents, small mammals, and other coyote prey. If you have fruit trees or berries, pick the fruit as soon as it ripens. You may also want to put up fencing to keep coyotes out.

Install motion-sensitive lighting around your yard to discourage coyote visits. Manage compost piles carefully to avoid attracting coyotes. Store garbage in tightly closing, or locking containers, that cannot be opened or tipped over.

Keep your pets safe. Cats and dogs that run free are easy prey. They may actually encourage coyotes to range closer to your property. Safeguard cats, rabbits, and small dogs by keeping them indoors. Larger dogs can be contained by outdoor kennels that are at least six feet high and preferably inset in the ground or in concrete. Never feed pets outdoors and bring dogs indoors after dark. Always walk your dog on a leash.

Fear of a coyote encounter should not stop you from enjoying outdoor recreation in your neighbourhood. Choose walking areas that are open, are well-lit, and have lots of foot traffic. Walk with a friend, use a walking stick, and carry a noisemaker, such as an air horn or whistle.

Never intentionally feed coyotes.

They will quickly lose their fear of people and become aggressive. Feeding coyotes on purpose puts the entire neighbourhood at risk of unwanted coyote encounters or attacks.

Facts About the Eastern Coyote

BEHAVIOUR

Canis latrans (Latin for “barking dog”).

Nocturnal; most active and vocal at night.

Vocalizations include high-pitched yelps, barks and howls. Normally shy and fearful of people.

TERRITORY

Anywhere in Nova Scotia; year-round.

Territory ranges from 24 to 48 sq. km (about 9 to 18 sq. mi.).

Travel an average of 20 km/day (12.5 mi./day).

Run at an average of 40 km/hour (25 mi./hour).

Capable of reaching 64 km/hour (40 mi./hour) or the speed of a greyhound.

APPEARANCE

Average size of 15 kg (34 pounds) or the size of a border collie.

Males can reach more than 23 kg (more than 50 lbs).

Tawny, grey, or black fur, with long black guard hairs.

Thick fur coat makes them look large.

Muzzle, throat, legs, and belly colour ranges from yellowish to white.

Dog-like tracks but narrower, with pointy toes.

DIET

Carnivores, but will eat anything available including:

- small mammals, rodents, and snowshoe hare
- carrion (decaying animal carcasses)
- berries and fallen tree fruit
- garbage and compost
- deer, fawns, sheep, and lambs
- feral and pet cats, and pet dogs

Usually hunt alone or in pairs, occasionally in small family groups.

Reducing the Risks

Follow these steps to reduce the risk of an encounter with a coyote.

Walk or hike with friends and always be aware of your surroundings. Use a walking stick and carry a noisemaker such as a bell, a whistle, an air horn, or a personal alarm.

Do not feed animals in the woods or along paths and trails. Never discard food wrappers or waste in the woods. Coyotes that have access to human food or garbage soon lose their fear of people.

Always walk your dog on a leash. If your dog is attacked, never get between your pet and the coyote as the coyote may turn its aggression toward you.

Never approach a coyote. If a coyote approaches you, don't run as this can trigger a predator-prey response, causing the coyote to chase you. Instead back away slowly, act big, and make noise to scare it away.

If a coyote attacks you, fight back, shout, and throw stones. Use whatever is available to defend yourself.

Report unusual daylight sightings or aggressive behaviour such as coyotes that approach pets or people, to your nearest Department of Natural Resources office or by calling 1 (800) 565-2224.

HOROSCOPES

March 27 - April 2

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20

Aries, although it may seem like you can't go on without someone, you will take care of what you need to do alone. There will be someone new in your life.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21

Taurus, the difficult conversations are always the toughest to begin, but take some time this week to get these words said or they may haunt you for months.

GEMINI - May 22/Jun 21

Gemini, chances are you won't see something coming this week. If something catches you off-guard, recover as quickly and as gracefully as you can.

CANCER - Jun 22/Jul 22

Cancer, you may want to take inventory of your income and expenses and try to curb spending for the next few weeks. You will need the funds for a big project later on.

LEO - Jul 23/Aug 23

Leo, you play an instrumental role in many people's lives, and that is why you can expect to be called on in an important way this week. Don't worry, you're up to it.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

Virgo, there's not much more you can say so don't waste your voice or your effort. Move on or you will just get frustrated. Romance seems likely this week.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

Libra, you can't put your finger on it, but something seems to be off-kilter. Once you determine the source of the disturbance, you will be able to resolve the issue.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

Scorpio, once you analyze a tricky situation, you will figure out that there's not much more that you can do about things without a little help. Start recruiting.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

Sagittarius, when placing too much emphasis on the financial, you can lose the true meaning behind the effort. Your priorities lie elsewhere this week.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

Capricorn, if you don't like your situation, change it. You control your destiny, and all it takes is some work on your part to make a fresh start.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

Aquarius, trivial things seem to affect you this week. Focus on the larger picture, and you will discover things are much better than you had originally imagined.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20

Pisces, pamper yourself now because if you don't there will be little time for it next week. Thursday is looking like a good day.

Fun By The Numbers
Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Greenwood Dolphins Swim Club Compete at Short Course East Coast Championships

By: Janice Hamilton, GDSC Head Coach

Returning home from 2011 East Coast Short Course Championships, Greenwood Dolphins Swim Club has again broken a club record, having six swimmers qualify for this year's championship meet held in Saint John, New Brunswick at the Canada Games Centre Pool. Mercedes LeBlanc, Sarah O'Reilly, Emma Woodworth, Logan Way, Austin Nowotczynski, and Coburn Brown, all worked very hard prior to the meet in order to achieve Nova Scotia East Coast qualifying time standards. Swimmers competed against four hundred top Age Group qualifiers from Atlantic Canada, including 130 swimmers from Nova Scotia's top age group. This small group of swimmers left their mark on the New Brunswick water setting another team first of having all qualifiers compete in Sunday evening finals. An outstanding display of fast and technical swimming was performed by all six swimmers!

Twelve-year-old Mercedes LeBlanc swam the 50 metre free for a final time of 32.80, 200 breast (3:15.42), 50 back (37:12), 400 IM (6:03.98), 200 back (2:44.31), 200 IM (2:52.28). Overall, Mercedes finished and placed fifth in the 200m backstroke. She also finished eighth in the 200 breaststroke. Outstandingly, Mercedes finished tenth in the 400 IM taking off a total of 14.46 seconds. Mercedes is in her fifth year of swimming with the Greenwood Dolphins.

Overall, Sarah placed eleventh in the 50 and 200 breaststroke in finals. She also had a very impressive seventh place finish in 100 metre backstroke. Sarah is in her seventh year of swimming with the team.

Sixteen-year-old Emma Woodworth swam the 100 metre back for a final time of 1:15.16, 50 fly (32.86), 50 back (35.57), 100 breast

(1:27.26), 200 back (2:43.93), 200 IM (2:58.02). Emma placed twelfth in a fantastic 200 IM swim in evening finals and eighteenth in the 100 back. Emma is in her second year of swimming with the Greenwood Dolphins and previously swam for seven years with the Middleton Missiles summer swim team.

Logan also finished and placed sixth in the 50 fly and 200 back, as well as tenth in the 50 metre free in the 11 & 12 age group. This is his fourth year with the Dolphins.

Kingston Recreation March Break Day Camp 2011 Thank you!

Submitted by: Glen Abriel, Village of Kingston, Recreation Association

Kingston March Break Day Camp would like to thank all the friends who came out to visit with us during a wonderful time at the Kingston Rec hut during the week. We had a great group of kids participating, each bringing a fantastic attitude of sharing, friendship and inclusiveness. Kingston Recreation would like to thank Kaley who was one of the leaders for the week and spent a lot of time pushing kids on the swings at the playground whenever asked. The Kingston Library came over to visit so we could partake in some creative letter writing and the St. John Ambulance Therapy Dogs enjoyed a great visit to our camp as well as giving a demonstration of dog show jumping & agility. We would also like to thank Valley Waste Management who dropped in to give us some advice on recycling. On Thursday, we walked over to our very own Kingston Volunteer Fire Department where we viewed a wonderful demonstration of the new ladder truck. Most of all we would like to thank all the parents who gave us the opportunity to share the week with your children. We had a great time playing, doing crafts and making new friends and we look forward to spending more time with you over the summer. Keep an eye out on our website at www.kingstonnovascotia.ca for updates on Summer Day Camps and other recreational opportunities.
