14 AMS Wing Imaging Undergoes Major Renovations

By Corporal Melissa Spence, 14 AMS Wing Imaging

On any given day, 14 Air Maintenance Squadron (AMS) Wing Imaging has up to twenty-one Imagery Technicians sharing space in the shop on the second floor of 10 Hangar. The confines of our old space left little room to move without stepping on one another. Therefore, we knocked down a few walls and redecorated a little, and now we have more (and better) room to spread our wings. In fact, we have nearly tripled our workspace. And along with more floor space, we got windows too!

To allow for this expansion, our old next-door neighbour, the 10 Hangar gym, was moved upstairs. Discussions and planning got underway at the end of March last year and the sledgehammers came out eight months later in November. The renovations were completed in early April, and the official opening for the renovated and expanded 14 AMS Wing Imaging section was held on 20 April 2011. 14 AMS Commanding Officer Lieutenant-Colonel TE Flynn, Aircraft Maintenance Support Officer Major SG Racle, Squadron Chief Warrant Officer G Pitman and Imaging Section Manager Warrant Officer R Clowe were on hand to perform the official ribbon cutting.

It has been a long process, but 14 AMS Wing Imaging is now running more smoothly and efficiently than ever. We have additional desks and computer work stations, so no one has to wait to work on jobs. This is important because our computers are essentially our dark rooms as well as our graphic design studios. With the additional space, we were also able to get the video section out of a cramped corner, new offices for the Sergeants and a new workspace for the Master Corporals. Finally, a new matting and framing section means that all the going away gifts, Certificates of Service, door signs, and maps get out the door much quicker.

Ice Pilots Visit the Greenwood Military Aviation Museum

By: Malcolm Uhlman,
GMAM

The first week of April saw a white Aurora flying in and out of Greenwood! An April Fools joke? No, it was a Buffalo Airways Lockheed Electra ferrying cement and re-bar to Iqaluit, in the Canadian North. The familiar white and green paint scheme of the aircraft, a predecessor of the Aurora, was flown by the famed "Ice Pilots" of the national TV program of the same name. The program chronicles the activities of Buffalo Airways of Hay River, NWT owned and operated by Joe McBryan ("Buffalo Joe"). The company flies to northern Canadian destinations, mainly out of Yellowknife and Hay River, using vintage aircraft DC-3 and DC4 airliners and C46 Commando; and newer Beech Baron, CL-215 water bomber and turbo-prop Lockheed Electra.

The program's #1 fan is Officer Cadet (OCdt) Elizabeth (Liz) Cowden, seen at the reception desk at the Greenwood Military Aviation Museum. Between flights, the Electra crews paid visits to the Museum. General Manager, Major Bob Johnson, gave personal tours, part of which was video taped and will be part of a future episode of next year's "Ice Pilots" show. A call to OCdt Liz at home brought her to meet her "champions", even though she had to hobble around in her ankle cast; in the excitement she forgot her crutches at home!

As there was so much work, a second Electra crew enabled them to fly round-the-clock. The second crew was captained by AJ Decoste, who got off track driving to Greenwood from the airport in Halifax and ended up in Liverpool, even though he's originally from Nova Scotia. When they asked for directions to a couple of sight-seeing locations in the Valley, OCdt Liz printed off a very clear set of local maps so they wouldn't run into the same navigational issues.

OCdt Liz got to chat with AJ and Scott on quite a few occasions over the week. She tells us that they were both so nice and willing to answer all her questions about flying in the North, operating those old war birds in the bitter cold, and how they ended up in Yellowknife of all places. AJ is an avid snowmobiler but says this past winter was too cold to go out much.

OCdt Liz, being a pilot herself, (glider and private licenses) and an Officer Cadet pilot- untrained in the military, the crews were more than happy to talk shop. They loved the Bolingbroke restoration project and their ears perked up when she talked about our Dakota restoration, as they are still flying some of the same vintage! Both of them said they had tried to get into military flying but it hadn't worked out for one reason or another.

OCdt Liz declares it was a pleasure to meet all of the crew, not just because of the TV show, but because "they share my passion for real hands-and-feet flying and they do it in incredibly harsh conditions, in aircraft with real character and history. And they were all incredibly nice to boot." Overall, they put that goofy smile on this young flyer's face for quite some time.

Many of the crew make their home in Yellowknife and despite our preconceptions of the weather there, they do have summers. Working in the -40 degree weather is indeed brutal, the hardest part being the loading and unloading of the aircraft.

Yes, Buffalo Joe is as stern as he is portrayed in the episodes but it is, without doubt, the boss' way of keeping the crews alert and making sure they return home safely. Despite this gruff exterior, the boss often shows his softer side through his generosity, but don't tell anyone!

Overall, the crews were most impressed with the Museum, its aircraft on display in the air park and the memorabilia inside. Of particular interest was the Air Commodore Birchall display, one of Canada's war heroes whom Churchill called "The Savior of Ceylon". S/L Birchall, with 413 Squadron flying an R.C.A.F. PBV 5A Catalina out of Ceylon (Sri Lanka), was the Canadian pilot who spotted the massive Japanese fleet in the Indian Ocean approaching the islands. His warning message alerted the British in the home port enabling the repulsion of the attack and keeping this strategic area in Allied hands. Birchall's plane was shot down, killing three crew members; the survivors spent three years in a prisoner of war camp. This story and many more can be viewed at the Greenwood Military Aviation Museum.

2011 marks the 70th Anniversary of the formation of 4 World War II Squadrons (Sqn): 404, 405, 413 and 415 Squadrons; as well as the 45th Anniversary of VP International. RV-2011 commemorates these significant milestones with 4 Major Events and several smaller events from 9-12 June 2011 at 14 Wing Greenwood. It is hoped that these events will allow current and former 404 Sqn "Buffalos", 405 Sqn "Eagles", 413 Sqn "Tuskers", 415 Sqn "Swordfish" and members of VPI to celebrate our "History and Fellowship"

RV-2011 commences on June 9th. Registration packages will be available all day and in the evening VPI will host a "Fellowship Night" at the VPI Building, open to all RV-2011 registered guests. On June 10th registration will continue all day. In addition, there will be a morning "Shotgun Start" Golf Tournament at the 14 Wing Golf Club at 8:00 a.m. followed by the "Meet and Greet" at the Annapolis Mess commencing at 6:30 p.m. June 11th will have "The Main Event"; commencing at 9:00 a.m. with Squadron and Industry displays, a Beer Tent with live music provided by the 14 Wing Band, as well as tours of aircraft and simulators. The evening has the "Dinner and Dance" in 14 Hangar. Starting at 6:30 p.m., music will be provided by the internationally acclaimed HMCS Stadacona Band. On June 12th there will be a "Farewell Breakfast" at the Annapolis Mess from 8:00-10:00 a.m. followed by the VPI Memorial Parade at 11:00 a.m.

Cost for the event is two tiered: Premium Level includes all events (Golf Tournament fees are extra) is $90.00 and the Basic Level includes the Fellowship Night, Meet & Greet and Main Event is $35.00

These events serve as a unique opportunity for alumni of these 4 Squadrons to reunite with former colleges, meet current members and forge new friendships; all while celebrating our impressive military aviation history. All who have contributed to 404, 405, 413 & 415 Sqn successes over the last 70 years as well as those working with VPI these last 45 years are encouraged to join in this momentous occasion.

More information is available at the RV-2011 webpage www.rv2011.ca or RSVP by email to database@rv2011.ca or call Major Pitcher at (902) 765-1494 ext 3936 indicating which level you would like to participate in. Space is limited so RSVP no later than 27 May 11.

Canadian Forces Begin Operation ATTENTION in Kabul, Afghanistan

By: Captain Glen Parent, National Command and Support Element, Op ATTENTION
Kabul, AFGHANISTAN

A Canadian soldier prepares to install cable on a pole at Camp Phoenix, Kabul on May 12. A 75-person Theatre Activation Team is in Kabul temporarily to prepare infrastructure and support services for the stand-up of Operation ATTENTION, the new Canadian Forces training mission in Afghanistan. The 35 Canadian Forces personnel who constitute the advance party of the National Command and Support Element of Op ATTENTION reached Kabul in late April and are now working with the Theatre Activation Team to prepare for the arrival of the rest of the initial rotation — Roto 0 — over the coming months. Most of the Canadian Forces personnel deploying to the Kabul area on Roto 0 of Operation ATTENTION will be in place by the fall of 2011.

None of this would have happened without the work and support of the Wing Logistics and Engineering Organization (WLEO) and the Wing Telecommunication and Information Services Squadron (WTIS), who went above and beyond in order to make this project such a huge success. From everyone at 14 AMS Wing Imaging and 14 AMS, we would like to pass on our gratitude for the excellent work. A tremendous "Thank you" goes out to all those who went out of their way to ensure all our imaging needs — and therefore the Wing's imaging needs - were met.

Atlantic Region Wins Squash National Championships

Originator: Major Gilles Couture

Submitted by: Captain Jeff Hallam, TacNav Instructor, 404 (LRP&T) Squadron

The Atlantic Region Squash Team won the 2011 Squash National Championships. The tournament was held in Borden, ON and took place from the 8th to the 13th of May. Representing Team Atlantic were Major (Maj) Gilles Couture (Team Coach, Team Capt) from Acoustic Data Analysis Centre Atlantic (ADAC(A)), Lieutenant Commander (LCdr) Michael Melnychuk from CF Naval Engineering School (CFNES), Chief Petty Officer 1st Class (CPO1) Ken Mullins from Maritime Forces Atlantic (MARLANT) Headquarters, LCdr Pat Perks from HMCS Preserver, Master Corporal (MCpl) Brian Reid from 423 Maritime Helicopter Squadron, Naval Cadet (NCdt) Victoria Bertling from the Halifax Base Commander's office, Captain (Capt) Jeff Hallam from 404 Long Range Patrol and Training Squadron, and Private (Pte) Chris Jones from 2nd Battalion The Royal Canadian Regiment (2RCR) in Gagetown. The opposition comprised of teams from the other traditional regions, consisting of the Prairies, Pacific, Quebec and Ontario.

The National Championship tournament format is similar to the Regional Tournament. The event is divided into two distinct parts: for the first two and a half days, the players compete against equally seeded players from the other regions to determine which team will bring home the pennant. The second part of the Tournament is an elimination round for the Under 30, Master, Women and Open categories to determine which player for each category will be Individual National Champion. Team Atlantic dominated in the team event, accumulating an incredible 141 points out of a perfect 156, only 1 point shy of 142, the 2007 record which also belongs to Team Atlantic. Just a couple more nicks and it would have been a new record!

The elimination round also went very well for the Atlantic Region players. Keeping on track with the momentum gathered at the Canadian Nationals held in Toronto a few days before, Maj Gilles Couture defeated Maj Simon Comtois from the Prairie Region for his first CF National title (Open). Pte Chris Jones secured the Under 30 crown while LCdr Michael Melnychuk was the runner-up in a tightly fought battle in the Masters division. CPO1 Ken Mullins and Capt Jeff Hallam won their respective consolation draws. NCdt Victoria Bertling, in her first participation in the CF Nationals, came within 3 little points from the title in the Women's round robin.

Atlantic not only performed well on the court but also in the awards department. First, Capt Jeff Hallam was the recipient of the "Dedication to CF Sports Award – Squash". This award is presented to an athlete, coach, official or athletic trainer who best exemplifies the qualities of strong commitment and support to the CF Sports Program. Jeff was nominated for his dedication to the Greenwood Squash Club and for his outstanding work as chair of the annual Greenwood Invitational tournament for the last few years. Finally, the enthusiasm, team spirit and fellowship demonstrated by CPO1 Ken Mullins during the tournament were also recognized, earning him the Royal Canadian Legion Sportsmanship Award – Squash 2011.

Overall, Team Atlantic players did extremely well at the 2011 Squash Nationals Championships. This would not have been possible without the help of the following individuals: Mr. Terry Sweeney, Mr. Jon Berg, Mr. Tony Hamilton and

(Image: Corporal Cynthia Wilkinson, CFSTG Imagery)

Mr. Isaac Habib, from Formation Halifax PSP Staff, for their outstanding logistical and continuing support. Finally, the team would like to thank all squash players at bases in our region for their love of the game, participation in team practice, camaraderie and friendship.

In honour of Red Friday the GMFRC will be hosting a Red Friday Lunch and Walk on May 27th. Come to the GMFRC at 12 noon, wearing red and we will give you a free hot dog lunch! After lunch we will take a walk through our community to show our support and appreciation for our troops and all they do. All are welcome!

Update On the Maritime Helicopter Project

The CH-148 Cyclone inside a hangar at 12 Wing Shearwater, N.S. after its arrival last week. (Image: Sikorsky)

The first interim maritime helicopter, the CH-148 Cyclone, arrived at 12 Wing Shearwater, N.S., last week. (Image: Sikorsky)

May 18, 2011

The first interim maritime helicopter, the CH-148 Cyclone, arrived at 12 Wing Shearwater, N.S. last week to support training of Canadian Forces aircrew and technicians for the Maritime Helicopter Project.

"The arrival of this helicopter in Shearwater demonstrates progress with this project and brings us one step closer towards the delivery of a Maritime Helicopter capability that provides the Canadian Forces with a modern, flexible helicopter to assist in the defence of Canada and Canadian interests well into the future," said Defence Minister the Peter MacKay.

On May 13, 2011, Sikorsky

Operations International Inc. flew the helicopter to Shearwater as part of its contractual obligation under the Maritime Helicopter Project to deliver initial cadre training to the Canadian Forces. The helicopter will be used as a ground-based training aid for technicians.

The arrival of this helicopter does not mark formal delivery at this time as Sikorsky has not yet met all of the contractual delivery requirements. The helicopter will remain under Sikorsky title and control until all requirements are met.

The Canadian Forces will take formal delivery and assume ownership of the helicopter once a Canadian military airworthiness certificate is granted and once initial aircrew flight training is conducted.

Sikorsky continues to make steady progress. Formal delivery of the first interim maritime helicopter is expected later this summer. The new Cyclone, in its final configuration, will be at the forefront of modern technology and will be one of the most capable maritime helicopters in the world.

“Library of the Month” for June is Kingston

Submitted by: Frances Newman, Regional Librarian, Annapolis Valley Regional Library, 902-665-2995 ext. 223 or francesnewman@nsar.library.ns.ca

All library branches of the Annapolis Valley Regional Library are being celebrated this year with a monthly focus on each branch thanks to their sponsor, RBC. Kingston is the Library of the Month for June.

An Open House will be held on Thursday, June 9 from 1:00-5:00 p.m. There will be a special storytime for kids and families after school at 3:00 p.m. and remarks from special guests will take place at 3:30 p.m. Stop by for some treats and see what the Kingston Library has to offer!

On Friday, June 10 at 7:00 p.m. join Canadian bestselling mystery writer William Deverell as he discusses his latest novel, “Snow Job”. Deverell was the creator of the Canadian television series Street Legal, and has won the Dashiell Hammett Award for Literary Excellence in North American Crime Writing. Deverell’s fifteen crime novels are very realistic because he worked as a lawyer on thirty murder trials as well as hundreds of other criminal trials and has seen it all first hand. In addition to his novels, he has also written a true crime book on Robert Frisbee based on the notorious murder trial which he defended, as well as several CBC radio episodes of, “The Scales of Justice”. William Deverell lives on Pender Island, BC and his visit is made possible through a grant from the Canada Council for the Arts.

Lots of other great activities are planned for June at the Kingston Library including a Landscaping & Curb Appeal Workshop on Thursday, June 2 from 2:00-3:30 p.m. with Amanda Bowlby from Bowlby’s Garden & Mowing Services, a demonstration on Preparing a Great Picnic Lunch by Chef Dan on Tuesday, June 7 at 7:00 p.m., a Floral Arranging Workshop with Barb from the Atlantic Superstore on Tuesday, June 14 at 7:00 p.m., and a Cake Decorating Demonstration with Elizabeth Markey on the afternoon of June 16. On Saturday, June 18 at 1:00 p.m. you can enjoy the violin music of the Symons Family when you visit the library.

Kingston is the “youngest” branch in the Annapolis Valley Regional Library system. Established in 1972, it was first housed upstairs in the former Village Commission Office on Victoria Drive. Then it moved downstairs into a new addition made specifically to house the library. It moved to its current location in the rear of the new Village Commission Office on Main Street in 1996. In 1972 the Kingston Library checked out just over 4,000 items. Last year in 2010, 27,646 were checked out! And to think some people thought that the Internet would replace public libraries. Obviously they were wrong and the numbers prove it!

Everyone knows the public library loans books, movies, and magazines for adults and children, but did you know they also offer downloadable e-books and audiobooks? You can download e-books and audiobooks for free through the library’s website at www.valleylibrary.ca.

Can’t find what you’re looking for on the library’s shelves? Since the Kingston Library is part of the Annapolis Valley Regional Library family of libraries, people can request books from any of their branch libraries or even from other libraries across Nova Scotia and Canada.

For more information about programs and services at the Kingston Library, call 765-3631 or visit them online at www.valleylibrary.ca.

North American Occupational Safety and Health (NAOSH) Week 2011

By Roger Walsh, CRSP, Wing General Safety Officer

On 2 May 11, Wing Commander Col Seymour, Wing Chief Warrant Officer, CWO Jardine, Wing Logistics & Engineering Officer LCol Letourneau, Wing General Safety Officer Roger Walsh, and Director Health Promotions Lisa White mustered at the 14 Wing Main Gate to unfurl the NAOSH Flag, officially marking the commencement of the week's activities. Several activities were held throughout the week to promote health & safety and this year's theme: "What's Your Plan"?

In the true spirit of partnership, which NAOSH Week is all about, 14 Wing General Safety & 14 Wing Health Promotions united to host a Health & Safety Fair in the Annapolis Mess on Wednesday 4 May. With over 45 kiosks advertising a wide range of health & safety (H&S) products and services, exhibitors included many provincial H&S service providers as well as many of our own 14 Wings affiliated H&S disciplines.

Many thanks to Mrs. Colleen Hodder and Union of National Defence Employees (UNDE) Local 80403 for sponsoring the H&S Fair snacks and refreshments. Our collective thanks to MS Lapierre, Function Coordinator and the Annapolis Mess staff for their efforts in ensuring this event was a success. To all who assisted with the set up and take down of the lounges, a sincere thank you.

Wing General Safety along with Wing Health Promotions would like to acknowledge all who contributed to the success of NAOSH Week by putting on displays, and Wing imaging for their coverage of the events. By all accounts NAOSH week 2011 was a success and truly reflective of the NAOSH symbol of many hands coming together in support of a valuable cause. Although the NAOSH week curtain has fallen for another year it remains paramount that we remain vigilant in our commitment to health & safety and continually ensure we always plan for safety in all tasks we undertake. "What's Your Plan"?

with your child can make a huge difference in how they feel about your time away from them. Young children may not understand where the parent went or why they couldn't go with them. A few ideas on how you can stay connected to your child during your deployment are:

- Send postcards home to your child showing where you have been.
- Write separate letters/emails to each child in

EAP

Employee Assistance Program

When you need someone to talk to, call:

Wayne Atwater...5567

Darlene Richards...3119

Debby Benda...3340

- your family.
- If you have older children read the same books as they are reading and talk about what is happening in the story via email.
- When writing letters to your children let them know what activities you miss doing with them and remind them that you will do them once again when you get home.
- Share with your child what your typical day is like (the foods you eat, where you sleep, what you do).
- If you are able to chat with your child online try playing a game of rock paper scissors.

Military families have to make many emotional adjustments during a deployment. Often children seem to gain confidence in themselves and become more independent. You can help your child know that it's okay to feel happy while you are away. It doesn't mean that they have forgotten the deployed parent it simply means that they are finding other ways to find strength within themselves and support from friends and other family members while the deployed parent is away from home. Your Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre is a great place to find resources on parenting before, during, and after your deployment.

If you would like more information on how you can stay in touch with your child during your time away please contact Kim Dixon at the GMFRC. Remember it is never too early or too late to get connected to your child during deployment.

Parent à distance : rester en contact avec vos enfants pendant un déploiement

Soumis par Kim Dixon, coordonnatrice des services aux enfants, aux jeunes et aux adolescents du CRFMG, 902-765-1494, poste 1812.

Être parent pendant un déploiement peut représenter un défi, mais rester en contact avec ses enfants peut faire une énorme différence quant à la façon dont est vécu l'éloignement. De plus, les plus jeunes peuvent ne pas comprendre où leurs parents sont allés ou pourquoi ils ne peuvent pas être avec eux. Voici quelques trucs pour rester proche de vos enfants pendant un déploiement :

- Envoyez à vos enfants des cartes postales montrant où vous êtes;

- Écrivez des lettres ou des courriels séparés à chacun de vos enfants;
- Si vous avez de grands enfants, lisez les mêmes livres qu'eux et parlez-leur par courriel de ce qui se passe dedans;
- Lorsque vous écrivez des lettres à vos jeunes enfants, parlez-leur des activités que vous faites habituellement avec eux et qui vous manquent, et rappelez-leur que vous les reprendrez quand vous rentrerez;
- Expliquez à vos enfants à quoi ressemble votre journée type (ce que vous mangez, où vous dormez, ce que vous faites);

- Si vous pouvez clavarder avec vos enfants, essayez d'organiser un jeu de roche, papier, ciseaux.

Les familles de militaires ont de nombreux ajustements émotionnels à faire lors d'un déploiement; souvent, les enfants semblent gagner confiance en eux et devenir plus indépendants. Vous pouvez aider vos enfants à savoir que c'est tout à fait correct de se sentir heureux quand vous êtes au loin. Cela ne veut pas dire qu'ils vous ont oublié; cela signifie simplement qu'ils ont trouvé la force en eux-mêmes ainsi que le soutien d'amis et d'autres membres de la famille. Le Centre de ressources pour les familles de militaires Greenwood est un formidable endroit pour trouver des ressources sur l'art d'être parent avant, pendant et après votre déploiement. Si vous désirez en savoir plus sur la façon de rester en contact avec vos enfants pendant que vous êtes parti, communiquez avec Kim Dixon, au CRFMG. N'oubliez pas qu'il n'est jamais trop tôt ou trop tard pour se rapprocher de ses enfants pendant un déploiement.

Are you a Commuter?

We have books on tape/CDs to make your journey fly by.

Family Stress Management of Deployment

Submitted by: Amy Snow, GMFRC Coordinator of Deployment Services, 765-1494 local 5583 or e-mail Amy.Snow@forces.gc.ca

Do you have a loved one preparing for deployment, currently away on deployment, or returning home from deployment? Do you have questions or would like more information about the deployment process and ways to handle deployment stress? If you answered "Yes" to any of the above questions then come join us on Wednesday, June 1st from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. at the GMFRC for our Family Stress Management of Deployment. We know that deployment can be a stressful time for all members of the family and we want to help make this time go as smoothly as possible.

This will be a great opportunity to learn helpful ways to help children through deployment, ways to communicate effectively with your deployed loved one, as well as coping techniques and ways to avoid deployment stress. Many of the topics that will be discussed will be very similar to the topics that your deploying loved one received in their training prior to their deployment. It has been found that families who received the same information concerning deployment stress and coping techniques felt more unified during the deployment and were better able to successfully navigate their family separation. So come join us on June 1st to receive this valuable information! Light snacks will be provided.

To register for this activity or for more information call 765-5611 before Friday May 27, 2011.

Gestion du stress pour les familles de militaires déployés

Soumis par : Amy Snow, Coordonnatrice des services de déploiement du CRFMG, 765-1494 poste 5583 ou par courriel à Amy.Snow@forces.gc.ca

Votre conjoint se prépare en vue d'un déploiement, est actuellement déployé ou sera bientôt de retour à la maison? Vous avez des questions ou aimeriez obtenir plus d'informations concernant le processus de déploiement et les façons de composer avec le stress? Si vous avez répondu « Oui » à l'une de ces questions, nous vous invitons à venir assister au séminaire sur la Gestion du stress pour les familles de militaires déployés le mercredi 1^{er} juin de 11 h à 13 h au CRFMG. Nous savons que le déploiement est une période qui peut s'avérer stressante pour les membres de la famille et nous voulons que vous viviez cette période le plus harmonieusement possible.

Ceci est une belle opportunité de découvrir des moyens utiles pour aider les enfants à vivre un déploiement, des façons de communiquer efficacement avec votre proche parti au loin ainsi que des techniques pour éviter le stress lié au déploiement. Plusieurs des sujets qui seront abordés seront très similaires à ceux entretenus par votre proche déployé lors de sa formation pré-déploiement. Il a été établi que les familles qui reçoivent la même information, concernant le stress lié au déploiement et les techniques pour mieux le gérer, se sentent plus unies pendant le déploiement et traversent cette période de séparation familiale avec plus de succès. Venez nous rejoindre le 1^{er} juin pour recevoir ces précieuses informations. Un léger goûter sera servi.

Pour vous inscrire à cette activité ou pour plus d'informations, appeler au 765-5611 avant vendredi le 27 mai 2011.

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
