Golf Atlantics on Greenwood course

14 Wing Greenwood will host the Atlantic Region Golf Championship June 17 through 20 at the Greenwood Golf Club.

Greenwood is the defending regional champ and on course this time around are team captain Warrant Officer Rick Hachey, Sergeant Steve Lake, Master Corporal Larry Youden, Sergeant Dave McDowell, Captain Clark Sollows, Lieutenant Karyne Gelinas and Captain Mary Cameron-Kelly.

Approximately 40 players on teams representing bases and wings in the Atlantic region will take part in this championship. Teams are entered from Shearwater, Gagetown, Halifax, St. John's, Gander, Moncton and Goose Bay.

Competitors arrive June 17 for a 2 p.m. briefing and then a 7 p.m. meet and greet, both at the clubhouse.

14 Wing Greenwood Commander Colonel Jim Irvine, or a delegated representative, will officially open the championship at 9 a.m. June 18. Competition gets underway at 10 a.m., continues from 7:30 a.m. June 19 and the third and final round starts at 9:30 a.m. June 20.

Awards will be presented at approximately 1:30 p.m. June 20 at the golf club.

CF camaraderie takes to the open road

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

The shared language may be "bike," but the links between riders in the Canadian Army Veterans Motorcycle Unit are stronger.

"The likeness of mind, the camaraderie, that we speak the same language," says Bob Peebles.

"I was an independent rider from 1975 – then I joined the club."

2nd CAV Fortress Europe chapter members ride out of Greenwood, but they're part of an international group of serving or retired Canadian Forces veterans who take to the road on two wheels. The local club has been chartered for three years, with over a dozen members on the roster.

"You have to have a bike to join," says Scot Austin, a Reserve captain at 14 Wing Greenwood, serving now as the base's ethics and harassment advisor. "The only other common bond is the Canadian Forces. People see our crests and they know who we are. A lot of people approach us."

End of an era Greenwood Square's historic cemetery marks final burial

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

A chapter in an old community's history closed May 28, as a 97-year-old woman was laid to rest in what was once the centre of Greenwood Square.

"I am the thousand winds that blow...", quoted Reverend Elizabeth Johnson during the service for Norma Milner, who died May 23 and was buried in the former Greenwood Union Church cemetery. "I am the quiet birds in perfect flight."

Fitting, as a spring breeze and flying birds crossed the 14 Wing Greenwood airfield towards the centuries-old landmark where Milner was taking her place, likely the last to take up a plot.

The cemetery is tucked between the Canadian Forces' base's airfield and neighbouring hangars, an important connection with a village that had deep roots on this land, long before the military made it its own. In 1961, with a final expropriation of land for the base, the trustees of the cemetery entrusted the plot to 14 Wing – its care and maintenance, and access for family visitors and a handful of future burials. Milner was buried beside her first husband, William, and alongside extended Newcomb (her maiden name), Spinney, Keddy, Magee relatives, friends and neighbours.

"This is a historic moment," Johnson said. "We had a very special bond, and I am pleased and honoured to do this service today."

Johnson knew Milner throughout her 17-year stay at Grand View Manor in Berwick.

Norma Irving Milner File

Milner left Greenwood Square in 1989, when her husband moved to the manor; she had been born in the village in 1914, grew up on her family's farm and then continued to farm as a married woman. She volunteered in the community's church, as a 4-H leader, taught piano to neighbouring children and helped with the local Red Cross.

"She was an only child and her dad's 'right hand man,' a seamstress, a committee member - and she gave up her home, as a dedicated wife, when her husband had a heart attack," Johnson said.

"She always had a ready smile, she was a gracious, gentle lady - but determined, a matter of fact person and she spoke her mind. Oh, but she loved people."

Johnson commented on the spring plowing of the Valley's farm fields and the beauty of the greening trees: "Everything is working out as God planned it, and I'm sure Norma is looking down now and saying, 'All is right' as well."

Milner, who once wrote a history of Greenwood Square, is now part of that past. There are no known individuals with designated places waiting for them in the old cemetery.

Norma Irving is likely the last person to be buried in the Union Church Cemetery, between 14 Wing Greenwood's 9 and 11 hangars.

26 years under his belt. Paul Turmel was in the Army for 24 years, in the armoured corps then as a materiel tech. Three years ago, he quit smoking and bought his first bike as a reward. Del Goodwin was in uniform for a total of 39 years. Dave “Doc” Hollaway, a 23-year Army veteran, has been on a bike for 30 years. His wife, Sue, is a CAV supporting member: the pair make a five-hour round trip every week from their home in Barrington to join up with the local CAV. They are the only crested CAV members on the South Shore.

Rob Gallant “never left” Greenwood after wrapping up his 20 years in the Air Force. He came back to bikes after a 33-year absence: “Bikes in my teens, yes – then muscle cars took centre stage. Last year, I was looking for a Chevelle on Kijiji, and a Honda Shadow came up.” He passed his motorcycle license last year.

Congratulations to Private Justin Chamberlain on receipt of his first chevron from Captain Bruce Paradis, Wing Fire Chief and Master Warrant Officer Leslie Blackmore, Deputy Wing fire Chief.

With outstanding vision, initiative, leadership and enthusiasm, Lieutenant (Navy) Blair Haines was awarded the Wing Commander's Commendation May 16 by Colonel Jim Irvine. Haines led the development and implementation of the Air Force Integrated Information Learning Environment project for myriad base and wing units in the Canadian Forces. In addition to every 404 Squadron operational training unit course, he worked with wing flight and general safety, Human Performance in Military Aviation and ethics programs; 26 Health Services, Logistics and Engineering, 14 Air Maintenance Squadron, Maritime Forces Atlantic and 403 and 426 squadrons to deliver many time-saving and practical training applications. An advocate of positive and lasting change, his body of work is a springboard for continued improvement and evolution of military training. His appreciation for the need to advocate and collaboratively influence other units to work together to improve truly embodies the 14 Wing motto, "Operate as One."

Notice from the President of Western Kings Arena

The Western Kings Arena would like to thank the community for its continued support through a challenging 2011/ 2012 season. Without the efforts of countless volunteers, rink patrons and local organizations and businesses, the rink would have difficulty offering a home for the many programs that use its space.

Restructuring of the association and operations in September, particularly moving from five staff to two full-time employees, assisted by a team of volunteers, was a big change, but essential to eliminate debt and meet the board's budget.

As many members of the Western Kings Arena may be aware, Mr Silby Pye was on leave through the transition and we now await news of his leave.

Again, thanks for your support, and we look forward to continuing to meet the community's recreation needs at the Western Kings Arena.

Play safe

Corporal Michael Weir, Greenwood Community Council

As we all watch work progress on the new playground beside the Greenwood Community Centre, it is prudent to keep some playground safety tips in mind for the June opening.

Supervising children at play can help prevent injuries by ensuring equipment is used properly and rough housing or unsafe behaviour is avoided. Children sometimes have difficulty judging dangerous situations; it is our responsibility as guardians to help keep them in check. Also, with an adult nearby, first aid for any injuries can be administered swiftly.

Teach your kids to use the equipment properly: sliding feet first and sitting on the swings are two examples. Never push or rough house. Make sure other kids are not in the way before jumping off equipment. Leave backpacks and bikes away from the equipment. Sweaters with drawstrings and hoodies can become a choking hazard; they should be removed before entering the playground equipment.

Wood that is splintering or cracked, metal equipment that is rusting, broken or worn out equipment or foreign objects can all pose a danger to our little ones. A simple walk-around of the playing area before letting your children begin play is a safe practice.

Jouez prudemment

Caporal Michael Weir
Conseil communautaire de Greenwood

Au moment où nous surveillons tous les progrès dans la construction du nouveau terrain de jeu à côté du centre communautaire de Greenwood, il serait prudent de garder à l'esprit quelques conseils de sécurité en prévision de l'ouverture en juin.

Superviser les enfants qui jouent peut aider à prévenir les blessures en s'assurant que l'équipement est bien utilisé et que l'on évite les comportements non sécuritaires ou les chamailleries. Les enfants ont parfois de la difficulté à évaluer les situations dangereuses; il est de notre responsabilité en tant que gardiens de les surveiller. De plus, si un adulte se trouve à proximité, il peut rapidement prodiguer des premiers soins en cas de blessure.

Montrez à vos enfants comment bien utiliser l'équipement en leur rappelant par exemple ces conseils : toujours glisser avec les pieds devant; s'asseoir sur les balançoires; ne pas pousser les autres ou se chamailler; vérifier qu'aucun autre enfant n'est là avant de sauter de l'équipement; laisser les sacs à dos et les vélos loin de l'équipement. Les chandails avec des cordons et des capuchons peuvent aussi entraîner des risques d'étouffement; ils devraient être enlevés avant d'utiliser l'équipement du terrain de jeu.

Le bois craquelé ou craqué, le métal rouillé, l'équipement brisé ou usé ou les objets étrangers peuvent tous poser un danger pour nos enfants. Une bonne habitude consiste simplement à inspecter brièvement les lieux en marchant autour du terrain de jeu avant de laisser ses enfants commencer à jouer.

Nobody likes doing it! Spring cleaning, that is. But when it's done, both our mood and our outlook are brightened.

The same holds true when it comes to looking at our finances. We hate to do it, but with some careful examination and the right advice, we can find ways to not only improve our current financial situation but position ourselves for a brighter future.

Many mortgage companies are currently offering fixed-rate mortgages at rates no one has seen in over half a century. But don't expect your financial institution to tell you they want to charge you less interest! Speaking with a mortgage consultant is a good first step if you're interested in lowering your existing interest costs and reducing your debt more quickly.

Some loans and credit cards could be charging you up to 18% interest. Consolidating that debt at 3.19% may not only save you money, but reduce your payments without increasing your amortization. But it's up to you to take the first step. Call to book an appointment with me today. The 30 minutes we spend discussing your finances may prove to be the most valuable half-hour you spend all year!

My analysis won't cost you a cent and there are no fees associated with having me make the arrangements for you.

I can also help with purchases, refinancing and equity take-outs, and have access to private mortgage alternatives for special situations.

Great read

Children have been regaled by the antics of Franklin the Turtle and his animal friends for 25 years and Canada Post has recently released a line of Franklin products.

The Kingston post office enjoyed promoting the items by sponsoring a colouring contest, and entrants were also judged on the completion of their address.

Over 40 entries were received, and presentations were awarded May 30. First place winners received trophies and gift certificates to the Inside Story. Winners in the grade 3 to 5 category were Ainslie Symons, first; Raymond McDow, second;

Isabelle Turner

and Annabelle Arenburg, third. Winner in the grade 6 to 8 category were Isabelle Turner, first; Hailey Maggio, second; and Makenzie Feindel, third. Anne Aucoin also won a gift certificate to Canada Post staff suited up as Franklin characters for the presentations, and turtle snacks of gummy worms, mud pie cookies and fish crackers were enjoyed.

Summertime fun

School is almost out, and that means summer is in!

Take some time to read up on some summer safety tips – in fact, share them with your friends.

Scooters, bikes and skateboards

A helmet should be worn every time you ride a bike, scooter, skateboard or in-line skate. Wear a comfortable, properly fitted helmet – always fasten the safety strap.

Be sure safety gear (wrist, elbow and kneepads) fits properly and does not interfere with movement, vision or hearing.

Always ride in safe areas, and never at night.

Learn the proper hand signals and use them when you turn or stop. Come to a complete stop before entering driveways, paths or sidewalks, then look left, right and left again for bikes, cars or pedestrians heading your way.

Water safety

If you're planning on going swimming, it's a good idea to take swimming lessons. Never swim alone: always swim with a grown-up or, if you are older, swim with a buddy (in an area supervised by a lifeguard). Wear a PFD (personal flotation device) when you're on a boat, fishing, doing water sports, or cannot swim.

Stop, look and test before entering lakes and pools. There could be rocks, branches, shallow areas or other hazards that you're not aware of. Walk slowly into the water to check things out before jumping. Check with a lifeguard before diving to make sure the water is deep enough. If you hear thunder or see lightning, get out of the water immediately.

Remind grown-ups of the importance of four-sided fencing around the pool area with a self-locking gate and keeping a phone nearby in case of emergencies.

Le coin du chef des pompiers | Plaisirs d'été

L'école sera bientôt finie, ce qui signifie que la saison estivale est à nos portes!

Prenez le temps de lire les quelques recommandations de sécurité suivantes à propos des loisirs d'été et mieux encore, communiquez-les à vos amis.

Patinettes, vélos et planches à roulettes

Vous devez toujours porter un casque quand vous faites du vélo, de la patinette, de la planche à roulettes ou du patin à roues alignées. Il doit s'agir d'un casque confortable et bien ajusté, dont vous devez toujours attacher la mentonnière.

Veillez à ce que l'équipement de sécurité (casque, coudières, genouillères et bandes de poignet) soit bien ajusté et ne gêne ni les mouvements, ni la vue, ni l'ouïe).

Ne pratiquez ces activités que dans endroits sûrs; jamais la nuit.

Apprenez les signaux manuels usuels et utilisez-les quand vous tournez ou que vous vous arrêtez. Faites un arrêt complet avant d'accéder aux voies d'entrée des maisons, aux chemins ou aux trottoirs, puis regardez bien à droite et à gauche pour voir s'il ne vient pas de piétons, d'autos ou de vélos.

Sécurité aquatique

Si vous avez l'intention d'aller vous baigner, il serait bon de prendre auparavant des cours de natation. Ne vous baignez jamais seul; faites-le toujours en compagnie d'un adulte ou si vous n'êtes plus un jeune enfant en compagnie d'un camarade (dans un endroit placé sous la surveillance d'un maître nageur). Si vous pratiquez la pêche ou des sports nautiques depuis une embarcation ou si vous ne savez pas nager, portez toujours un vêtement de flottaison individuel (VFI).

Avant de pénétrer dans un lac, un étang ou une piscine, arrêtez-vous et prenez le temps d'observer les alentours et de tâter du pied le fond. Il pourrait s'y trouver des pierres, des branches, des hauts-fonds ou d'autres dangers non apparents. Avancez doucement dans l'eau pour vérifier l'endroit avant d'y sauter. Avant de plonger, assurez-vous auprès d'un maître nageur que l'eau est suffisamment profonde. Si vous entendez de l'orage ou voyez des éclairs, sortez de l'eau immédiatement.

Rappelez aux adultes qu'il est important que les piscines soient complètement entourées d'une clôture dotée d'une porte à fermeture et verrouillage automatiques et qu'un téléphone soit accessible à proximité en cas d'urgence.

W.K. rink golf event a winner

Over 20 teams, 30 hole sponsors and lots of fun made the May 25 Western Kings Arena Association's annual fundraising tournament at Paragon a great success. A great day was had by all, with over $22,000 (before expenses) raised to benefit the community rink.

National Hockey League referee Don Koharski played at hole 13 for the players (sponsored by Paul Parsons from Fraser's Pro Hole), and what a pro he was. Koharski picked up a lot of extra funds by taking the shots for the golfers off the tee - not a green was missed!

Scotiabank in Greenwood matched the tournament's first $5,000 raised. AA Munro in Greenwood sponsored the top three team prizes, a hole and also fundraised with a raffle at the #1 tee box.

Connell Chrysler put up a car as a hole in one prize and, not to be outdone, Bruce Ford offered another car and Fraser's Pro Home placed a motorcycle on the greens (and sponsored the long drives and placed two teams in the tournament). Shawn's Sports Excellence placed a $1,000 gift card on another hole, and Greenwood Home Hardware offered $3,500.

CIBC Kingston and JC's Hot Tubs ran fundraising holes. Maid-Pro manned a hospitality hole, and Sobeys Greenwood hosted a fundraising BBQ at another hole, sponsored a hole and also entered a team. Aaron Daniels of EXIT REALTY sponsored the female long drive prizes, and Subway had

Field of dreams

Double header ball weekend all for kids

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

Ball players of all strengths and skills will be taking to the fields in Kings County over the next two weekends, all for a good cause.

14 Wing Greenwood Petty Officer First Class Mike Dempsey knows all too well how special the work of the Children's Wish Foundation is. His daughter, Angela, had a wish granted by the non-profit group during her three-year battle with leukemia.

"Angela's wish made the biggest difference for us," he says, remembering how surprised the family was when she asked for a salt water backyard pool they could all enjoy.

Unfortunately, Angela died at age 16, but Dempsey was more than willing to help the CWF continue its work when called upon by organizers of the 4th Children's Wish Charity Softball Tournament.

"This is brand new involvement for me – just throw me on the BBQ, or selling tickets. I'm helping get the word out about the tournament, and wanted to pass along contacts for people who may want to donate directly."

The tournament takes place on a half dozen fields from Berwick through Cambridge, involves dozens of teams and spans two weekends, June 15 to 17 and June 22 to 24. The entire event started three years ago, hosted by Michelin Sport and Social Club volunteers, and includes BBQs, entertainment, lots of draws and prizes and more – with all proceeds to help the CWF make a child's wish come true.

Dempsey is impressed even through his limited involvement to date: last year's tournament raised $11,000, and organizers are aiming for $20,000 this time. "It all adds up."

To enter a team ($320 registration fee), contact Matt King, (902) 365-2028. To volunteer, or make a donation of cash or prizes, contact Kent Mullin, (902) 375-2412.

MPs make a golf challenge

14 Wing Greenwood's 31 Military Police Flight challenge golfers to pick up a club and hit the greens June 26, all in support of their Fund for Blind Children charity golf event.

The event is looking for four-person teams to make up the field at the Greenwood Golf Club. Entry fee is $20 per person (for members of the club) and $50 for non-members, which includes a meal, and the chance to win hole-in-one prizes of either $10,000 or a $3,500 gift card. It's an 8 a.m. shotgun scramble start.

To register a team, contact Master Corporal Barry Oxford at Barry.Oxford@forces.gc.ca.

Dance clubs move all year

The Annapolis East Elementary School and Middleton School dance clubs have had a very busy year.

In October, the groups travelled to Bridgewater for Dance Spectacular, where they put on a dance show of seven songs for those attending the TAPHE conference. They began practicing right away in order to attend the May 11 national TAPHE conference.

The groups also had the opportunity to put on a show for their school on the International Day of Dance, and perform in the annual spring concert along with several school choirs.

Three years ago, when Dance Spectacular was created, these two schools were the only groups performing. At this year's national conference May 11, both A.E.E.S. and Middleton groups performed with nine other schools from across the province, including an all-groups number to "Move Your Body," a dance put together with the efforts of Michelle Obama and Beyonce Knowles to promote physical fitness through dance in schools. The children got to watch ribbon dancing, hip hop, creative and jazz pieces, as well as a finale number put on by Drew Moore's Concrete Roots club, which amazed all.

Dance club is a great opportunity for children to be active, make new friends and increase their self-esteem. Thanks to all the volunteers who make these events possible.

Sport NS honours Peppard

The winners of the Ricoh Sport Awards were unveiled June 2 by Sport Nova Scotia.

Among them was Al Peppard from Middleton, recipient of the Sport Nova Scotia Chair Award.

Over 500 members of the Nova Scotia sport community gathered in Halifax to see Sport Nova Scotia present the 16th annual Ricoh Sport Awards. The prestigious sport recognition event honoured the achievements of more than 220 athletes, coaches, officials, sponsors, sport associations, and volunteers from across the province.

Paragon golfers rank in NSGA event

The 2012 Nova Scotia Golf Association's Men's Four Ball championship was hosted at

Eagle Crest, north of Kentville, June 2 and 3. Michael Lutes (NSPPC) and Greg Black (Granite Springs) defeated Fraser Keayes (Ashburn) and Chris Evans (Ashburn) in a one-hole playoff to win the tournament. Lutes and Black carded 67 during the final round to finish with a two-day total of 133.

Don Matheson and Brent Moxon of Oakfield won the third division with a two-day total of 143. Mark Presley and Jerry Degraaf from Paragon finished second in the third division, with a two-day total of 146.

Community friends are invited to the opening of the new Church Street, Greenwood playground.

Ribbon cutting, refreshments, face painting.

Returning Officer Information Session

Under the Elections Act, the delineation of new provincial electoral district boundaries leads to a merit-based competition and selection of returning officers across the province.

Appointed by Nova Scotia's chief electoral officer for a 10-year period, a provincial returning officer administers the electoral process in one of 52 electoral districts. The position calls for broad management experience and a variety of skills. The work is diverse, challenging and rewarding. And, by its nature, it is impartial and non-partisan.

If you would consider applying to be a returning officer and are interested in finding out more about the job, contact us at 1-800-565-1504 to register for the information session being held near you.

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Festival links

Base strengthens connections with Valley tradition

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

“I told you mine would win something, boys!” Warrant Officer Dan Dospital crowed as he helped greet the 80th Apple Blossom Festival royal party at 14 Wing Greenwood June 4.

Dospital and a dozen other military escorts from the base joined the young women and festival organizers for lunch at the Annapolis Mess on the final day of the women’s busy week of parades, teas, visits and special events. “His” princess, Windsor’s Kate Grandy, was presented the festival’s Community Spirit Award.

Lieutenant-Colonel Chris Ouellette welcomed the royal party to the base on behalf of 14 Wing Commander Colonel Jim Irvine.

“It is a real pleasure to have you here,” he said. “I was at the coronation and the parade – I hope you had a great weekend, there was a lot going on. We hope to have you back again, and maybe have time to show you what we do or get you on a plane.”

Apple Blossom Festival Queen Samantha Whynot, Port Williams, and her peers, all seemed impressed by the offer, but looked just as pleased to be able to sit quietly and enjoy lunch with some of the first people they had met during their whirlwind week.

Military escorts were on hand for the dress rehearsal for the coronation event, and some quick connections were made as they practised how the festival’s marquee event would unfold June 1.

Sergeant Andrew Elliott said he had never done this kind of thing before, but answered the base’s call for volunteers.

“This was my first Apple Blossom Festival – I was posted here from Cold Lake last year, so had just gotten here.”

He was pleased to see how Princess Canning, Nicole Hill, had made out over the festival, and recognized immediately how much effort she and the other women had put into their role throughout the schedule.

Ouellette said it’s important for 14 Wing personnel arriving in the Valley to feel a part of their new home.

“Being involved is a great connection between the base, the festival and the community,” he said. “It’s a great way for our new people coming in to the base to get to know the community and take part in the festival.”

Captain Caroline Cabot looked after local arrangements, sending out the call for volunteers to act as escorts for the royal party members.

“We had people from all different sections on the base – two Army, the rest Air Force. A lot of people do volunteer,” she said.

Adding the military escorts this year to the royal party’s long-standing lunch visit to the base was a great opportunity to foster community links, Cabot said.
