Trudeau touches down

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

It was a flying Nova Scotia visit, but Prime Minister Justin Trudeau made an impression on 14 Wing Greenwood personnel as his aircraft made the base its overnight home August 15 and 16.

Trudeau arrived at 14 Wing late in the day August 15, arriving on his Challenger, crewed by his regularly-assigned Royal Canadian Air Force and civilian staff. His RCMP security detail arrived with him, met on the airfield by support members from H Division, including vehicles and an RCMP dog handler.

14 Wing Greenwood's visits officer Captain John Pulchny said the base provided 24-hour security for the prime ministerial aircraft, including ground services like refuelling, marshalling and air traffic control guidance. Technical and mechanical support was available in case it was required.

14 Wing Commander Colonel Pat Thauberger and Wing Chief

Warrant Officer Luc Emond greeted Trudeau, welcoming him to Greenwood and shaking his hand. Trudeau was quickly whisked away, preparing for the next morning's announcement in Bridgetown of federal funding for Nova Scotia water treatment projects in a number of communities.

Trudeau was back at the base mid-morning August 16 for his departure.

"It happened that there were some people outside the fence, including some of the summer camp Cadets, and I asked the RCMP detail if we could bring some of the Cadets in to see the prime minister," Pulchny said. "They said yes, so we brought them in to stand along the side of the airfield. When Trudeau arrived, he got right out of his vehicle and went right over to them."

The Cadets were beyond excited, Pulchny said, obviously impressed and pleased to meet the prime minister, who spent time taking pictures and talking with the group.

"Everyone was absolutely wide-eyed, Pulchny said, "so happy. Trudeau looked so relaxed, like their brother, and he was very easy to get along with. The Cadets were so happy."

Trudeau then spent a few more minutes having pictures taken with the H Division RCMP security detail members, Thauberger and Emond and other 14 Wing personnel at hand.

Pulchny said it's the first time in a dozen years he knows of a prime minister who has used 14 Wing's airfield as a staging area for a Nova Scotia visit. The visit was arranged on short notice, with federal security officials making a quick preliminary flight in to check local arrangements before Trudeau's arrival. No major adjustments were required in 14 Wing's standard security posture.

Prime Minister Justin Trudeau meets with Cadets and military members on the 14 Wing Greenwood airfield, before preparing for departure August 16.

Drug charges laid against military member

August 15, the Canadian Forces National Investigation Service (CFNIS) laid charges under the National Defence Act against Aviator Nicholas Burrell of 14 Wing Greenwood.

The alleged offences relate to an investigation that resulted in the seizure of more than half a kilogram of marijuana, packaging materials, production equipment and a non-military firearm from the residence of the accused May 14.

Burrell faces one count of Possession for the Purpose of Trafficking in accordance with section 130 of the National Defence Act, pursuant to section 5(2) of the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act; one count of Production of Substance in accordance with section 130 of the National Defence Act, pursuant to section 7(1) of the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act; one count of Unauthorized Possession of Firearm in accordance with section 130 of the National Defence Act, pursuant to section 91(1) of the Criminal Code of Canada; one count of Unsafe Storage of Firearm in accordance with section 130 of the National Defence Act, pursuant to section 86(2) of the Criminal Code of Canada; one count of Possession of a Weapon for a Dangerous Purpose in accordance with section 130 of the National Defence Act, pursuant to section 88 of the Criminal Code of Canada; and one count of Careless Use of Firearm in accordance with section 130 of the National Defence Act, pursuant to section 86(1) of the Criminal Code of Canada.

seriously and investigates to determine the facts, analyze the evidence and, if warranted, lay appropriate charges. These charges reflect the effectiveness of ongoing efforts by the team to eradicate drug use within the Canadian Armed Forces," said Lieutenant-Colonel Francis Bolduc, Commanding Officer, CFNIS.

CFNIS is a unit within the independent Canadian Forces Military Police Group whose mandate is to investigate serious and sensitive matters in relation to Department of National Defence property, DND employees and Canadian Armed Forces personnel serving in Canada and around the world.

Wing responds to dry conditions, fire incidents

Residential Housing Units residents and all 14 Wing Greenwood personnel are advised 14 Wing Fire and Emergency Services and Military Police responded to three suspicious fires around the RHU area August 14 and 15.

With the extremely dry weather and forest conditions across Nova Scotia over the past several weeks, conditions for wildfires are present with even a very small ignition source available. If you are smoking within the RHU area and on the wing, please ensure materials are completely extinguished prior to disposal to prevent any incidents.

All 14 Wing personnel and RHU residents are requested to be vigilant and immediately report fires or suspicious activities in the RHU area to the 14 Wing Military Police and Wing Fire and Emergency Services by calling 911.

Tactical Mobile Support training at Camp Aldershot

A real-life account

Private Ryan Young &
Private Scott Fraser,
36 Service Battalion,
Halifax

Any type of military operation, at home or overseas, requires capable motor vehicle operators to move personnel and equipment securely and in a timely fashion. This summer we were fortunate to join a band of eager candidates on the Mobile Support Equipment Operator Qualification Level 3 course at Camp Aldershot in Kentville.

Delivered by 5th Canadian Division Training Centre's E Company, the MSE Op QL3 course required candidates to operate various standard military vehicles. These ranged in size from the General Motors Light Utility Vehicle Wheeled Militarized Commercial Off-The-Shelf or LUVW MilCOTS (a militarized version of the Chevy Silverado), to the five-ton Navistar Medium Support Vehicle System (MSVS) Tactical Truck.

What candidates do with these vehicles is serious but fun stuff. We were exposed to many different types of employment and environmental situations, such as safe backing, field operations and road moves on provincial highways. In addition, we were instructed on different types of specialized equipment, like the material handling crane and the air brake systems of the MSVS, as well as how to maintain all equipment in serviceable condition.

While on the field portion of the course, we were trained on how to provide tactical transportation support for combat operations, performing the duties of an operator in a delivery point and taking defensive action to protect the area, vehicle and load.

The course started with instruction on applicable regulations, defensive driving and dangerous goods transportation. Lessons were not always in a classroom. This was a very hands-on course, so it was not unusual for a lecture to take place on the parade square, vehicle compound or field training area.

Once written tests were completed, we participated in a familiarization drive on-base, on off-road tracks and trails in a controlled area, followed by both day and night drives with the LUVW MilCOTS and MSVS on provincial highways and urban areas. Then came the really fun part where we applied knowledge from our training during the field portion with tactical convoy drills.

While this was a mentally and physically demanding course, we were excited because we were gaining skills that are applied daily in both military and civilian settings – and we all looked forward to taking part in Exercise Strident Tracer, during which we applied our training in an even more realistic setting with other Army trades from both the Canadian and United States armies.

Candidates conduct a secure convoy road move in the training area of Camp Aldershot, during a Mobile Support Equipment Operator Qualification Level 3 course.

Laughter yoga comes to Greenwood

Dawn-Lea Greer

Just over a year ago, I embarked in my training as a laughter yoga leader with Michi Morioka from Japan and, again this year, to become a trainer. At that time I had been in Kingston/Greenwood for a year. After observing many physical and mental illnesses and being a part of the community health board, I began to think there has to be better way to live!

Ho Ho HA HA HA! What is all this laughter yoga stuff? Laughter yoga combines laughter exercise and yogic breathing, bringing more oxygen to the body and the brain - which makes one feel more energetic and healthy. Dr. Madan Kataria from India, with just five people in a Mumbai Park in 1995, started the practice. Today there are thousands of laughter clubs in more than 100 countries.

A concentration on child-like playfulness ensures laughter comes more easily. We have been programmed to be mature and serious. If we could take our adult-trained brain and transplant it with a two- to three-year-old's brain, we would find much more happiness in our lives. Children, on average, laugh 300 to 400 times a day; adults, just 10 to 15 times a day. We adults can have that happiness, too!

Laughter yoga elevates the mood within minutes, releasing endorphins, reducing stress and strengthening the immune system. Do you want to have a great team working at peak performance? Our brain needs 25 per cent more oxygen for optimal functioning. Laughter exercises can increase the net supply of oxygen to our body and brain, improving efficiency and performance. Laughter is a great connector for people, helping form caring and sharing relationships with friends. There are so many more benefits: for seniors, business, students, people struggling with mental and physical health....

An introduction to laughter yoga is being offered in the annex at St. Mark's Chapel August 23, from 8:45 a.m. to 10 a.m. Please bring water, a yoga mat (not necessary, but good to have), wear loose fitting clothes - and a smile. The cost is a freewill offering (food bank donations are welcome). Any questions or may be directed to dawnleagreer@hotmail.com or 902-471-0852.

Cadets' summer work, play

Lieutenant Charles Huntley, Greenwood Cadet Training Centre

The second serial of three week course cadets arrived and started on their courses August 8 at the Greenwood Cadet Training Centre. They were excited: for some, it will be their first time away from home and at the training centre.

The six-week Army Cadets had the opportunity to take part in some exciting activities at 5 CDSG Detachment Aldershot. They went rappelling and had the chance to see some of the transport vehicles the Canadian Armed Forces uses. All Cadets enjoyed their time at the detachment.

A charity car wash July 30 was a great success. The General Training Course Cadets raised over $433 for Soldier On. The last car wash was held August 13. So far this summer, they have raised $840. Training Centre staff would like to thank everyone who has supported the events.

As well, the Greenwood CTC Band marched in the Annapolis Valley Exhibition parade in Lawrencetown August 15, and various course Cadets made visits to Upper Clements Park.

Many smiling faces are leaving the training centre as programs wrap up. August 18 was the final graduation parade. Staff and Cadets from the Greenwood Cadet Training Centre thank everyone who has assisted the training centre, and hope to see you next year.

Fun By The Numbers
Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

horoscopes

August 21 - August 27

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20
Everyone recognizes your ambition this week, Aries. Channel your energy constructively and don't be ashamed to pursue your goals so strongly.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21
Taurus, tackle some slow and steady work this week rather than trying to be innovative or unique. There will be a time to innovate later on. Right now you need to prove yourself.

GEMINI - May 22/Jun 21
Gemini, you are in the mood to get started on something new over the next few days. Think about some tasks you have been putting off and develop a plan to address them.

CANCER - Jun 22/Jul 22
Cancer, take an intellectual approach to solving a problem that has been bothering you for quite some time. Ask a friend for advice if you find you need some help.

LEO - Jul 23/Aug 23
Leo, approaching someone who has not done his or her share of the work can be difficult. Tread gently because this person may have been distracted by something more pressing.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22
Your big ideas are highly valued, Virgo. Let others know what you are thinking and you may find that even more people are receptive to your ideas than you initially thought.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23
Libra, things have been going your way for some time now. It's exciting waiting for whatever is just around the corner. This unanticipated good fortune is just what you need.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22
Open yourself up to a new way of thinking, Scorpio. While your way of doing things may be right most of the time, adopting a fresh perspective may help you see things more clearly.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21
Sagittarius, try doing something on the spur of the moment. Spontaneity may give you a rush that you may not have felt in some time. This could be just the excitement you need right now.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20
Try to meet some new people, Capricorn. Add to your collection of networking contacts, which will help further both your professional and personal lives.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18
Aquarius, relax when a stressful situation presents itself. Add some humour to the situation so you and others can handle it in the most positive way possible.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20
Pisces, if others are uninterested in being social, find creative ways to enjoy some alone time. This may include music or artwork.

'Checking out' a good read in the great outdoors

Lake Pleasant Campground manager Kevin Halverson, left; and 14 Wing Greenwood Library manager Judy McCool are happy their recent summer partnership on new picnic tables for the library – made by campers – will allow library visitors like Steven Brinklow and Sandra Trail, with sons Samuel and Dean; to “check out” a good read in the great outdoors.

Sergeant B. Milligan

Sergeant Brian Milligan

There's nothing better than having some free time to spend reading a good book. It can be an escape from reality or a journey to the unknown.

The 14 Wing Greenwood Library is a great place for those who like to read. The library is always improving its services and programs and, thanks to the Lake Pleasant Campers Club, a another 14 Wing recreational organization, the library now has a couple of picnic tables where readers may enjoy the newly-developed green space just outside the library's doors.

“It is just fantastic to have the help from another 14 Wing Greenwood club,” says librarian Judy McCool. “The picnic tables will allow patrons and staff in the Morfee area a great option to enjoy an outdoor lunch.”

Lake Pleasant manager Kevin Halverson adds, once people have signed out their books or movies from the library, they could also “check out” Lake Pleasant, where the words “relaxation” and “escape” aren't just words – “they are a way of life.”

A surge in interest in aquasize classes at the 14 Wing Greenwood Fitness and Sports Centre this summer is, in part, thanks to funding that's made the program no-charge for participants. Continued support sees the classes moving to the base's outdoor pool for the rest of the summer – come give it a try!

Everybody in the pool! Partnership enables exercise for all

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

It took Diana Brothers six months to find the “me time” she knew she needed for exercise: now that she’s been at it for a couple months, she doesn’t want it to stop!

Brothers, the Kings County municipal councillor for the Greenwood area and the sitting county warden, put partners together to coordinate and fund a free introductory aquasize class at the 14 Wing

Greenwood Fitness & Sports Centre earlier this summer. Class participation now often hits the pool limits of 52 people, with over 80 signed on to be class regulars.

“I like to swim – I knew I wasn’t going to cycle 45 minutes or lift weights, but I knew I needed something,” Brothers says. With persistent knee and hip problems, and a hectic work schedule, the first-thing-in-the-morning aquasize classes in Greenwood fit the bill.

“I go Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays when I can. I’ve met some really nice people, and my balance, my mobility and my energy levels are better.”

Brothers worked with county recreation program staff to find subsidizing funding for the classes through July and August at the F&S Centre. The funds help cover pool rental and the wages of two on-deck lifeguards and instructor Barb Sawler. She adjusts the exercises for individuals of all ability, and everyone is welcome: men and women.

The program was set to end mid-August, but the team has put their heads together and are continuing the free sessions – outside, at the base’s Church Street pool, the same weekday mornings at 8:45 a.m. through to September 2.

“The health benefits of the class, and the socialization that goes along with getting out of the house, being active and, for some people, coming into a base facility for the first time ever, are great. This is a great integration of the base with the surrounding community, and you see the sense of pride in the centre staff when people come in for the classes.”
