Wing goes wild

On the lookout for life in soon-to-be-removed lagoon

Sara White. Managing editor

Efforts to remediate and remove an unused firefighting lagoon at 14 Wing Greenwood are taking workers into the weeds, looking for wildlife.

The former training compound included a simulated section of an aircraft fuselage, which, in turn, was sitting in the middle of a bermed lagoon. As firefighters sprayed extinguishing foams on the flaming fuselage, the run-off was contained in the lagoon.

Real Property Operations is in the process of removing the lagoon. 14 Mission Support Squadron Captain Rick Costain says the lagoon has been tested for any residue from firefighting foam and cleared of any potential contaminants. The water was set to be drained through several punch holes, down into the ground, beginning September 11. The fuselage piece will be removed and disposed of, and the dry lagoon filled in, levelled and gravelled over to expand the nearby parking September 7, Ng and Adam Deustch donned hip waders and set out to capture frogs, aiming to re-home them to a pond on the Greenwood Golf Club course.

"The frogs are not endangered, but it's really a personal passion and what we do at Wing Environment – we offered to do it," Ng says.

The men spent a good hour attempting to sneak and scoop frogs floating along on the sunny surface of the water, or "herding" them into areas where they might be nettable. The results? One frog. Ng even returned that night after dark, hoping, if he used bright, focused lights; the frogs would be mesmerized enough to be captured.

"We did our best, and it was all due diligence," Ng says.

Real Property's slow and steady draining of the lagoon now means wildlife has the opportunity to adjust and then move on: "it's not destruction of a habitat, all at once."

The frog they found?

"We did take it to the golf course pond and there were already 'buddies' there, the same species."

Special Olympics bowling gearing up

the Aurora | 14 Wing Greenwood, NS

The Kings Special Olympics 5-pin bowling program will kick off the season October 11.

In order to be eligible to participate in Special Olympics service held every Sunday at the New Beginnings Center 1151 Bridge Street programming, the person must have an intellectual disability.

We bowl out of the Greenwood Bowling Centre, located at 14 Wing Greenwood, every other Thursday, starting at 6:30 p.m. and normally finishing up with Elena. Call/txt 902-847-0097 or at 8 p.m.

> Two games of bowling, including bowling shoe rental (if required) will cost $6 (taxes included) and the athlete or caregiver is responsible for paying the fee to the bowling alley attendant on arrival.

If you wish to bowl and did not get a chance to sign up in advance on provincial registration day, registrations will be taken October 11 at the Greenwood Bowling Centre from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. The registration fee is $30, and forms will be available the first night of bowling; forms are also available at specialolympicsns. ca (click on "Resources," then "Forms," and bring the completed forms with you.

Parents/ caregivers of athletes new to the Kings Special Olympics Bowling Program are asked to accompany their registered or registering athlete on the first night of bowling so coaches have the chance to meet with you, discuss how to ensure the athlete will gain the most from the program and answer any questions.

We are always in need of volunteer scorekeepers and, this year, we are also looking for a female coach. If you have about three hours to spare a month and want to help make a difference, please get in touch to discuss your interest. Our goal is to ensure every athlete has fun bowling, while increasing their activity level and making new friends. Should you have any questions or would like more information, contact coach Pat Nixon (902-765-8011).

Clowning around

The Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre was thrilled at the fantastic turnout for its "Clown Around" event September 24. Milo "T" Clown created a customized magic show for the youngest community members. He captivated their attention and sparked their imagination for most of the hour. We look forward to meeting more community members every week during our parent and tot, Tumble Tots and baby group programs.

Le Centre de Ressources pour les Familles Militaires de Greenwood sommes ravis du tournant de notre activité « Venez faire le clown avec nous » le 24 septembre dernier. Mile « T » Clown a créé un spectacle magique sur mesure pour notre plus jeune clientèle. Il a su captiver leur attention et illuminer leur imagination durant une heure. Nous espérons vous bientôt d'autres membres de la communauté chaque semaine pour nos programmes réguliers tels que Parents et bambins, Pirouettes et culbutes et le Bébé en groupe.
